I AM JACKSON. My corridors are endless and my walls are firm.

I am a massive structure of concrete and steel, a tribute to the modern age.

But I am more . . .

I am the senior who turns his face to the future and, tears brushed aside, looks bravely forward; I am the junior whose misty eyes bring solemn vows of the year to come; I am the sophomores, the freshmen, all who within my walls find knowledge.

I am the teacher, who patiently guides boys and girls without thought of reward, never losing faith in the younger generation.

I am the quarterback who bears the pigskin triumphantly across the line; the little girl who failed her test. I am hundreds of classrooms, thousands of desks; and I am those teachers, those students.

I am hundreds of feet tramping through dusty hallways; 2600 young minds searching for the truth. I am thousands of hearts beating as one; a medley of aims blended together and bound by friendship.

I am mother to the rich and poor alike; the father of every nationality and religion. I am every sorrow, joy, and aspiration of youth—

I AM JACKSON.

I am one of the sweetest & gentlest
cheerleaders of Jackson.
I pure wish I could have been in home room with you all during my senior year. Lots of luck & happiness in the future.

Dedication

When some one has worked tirelessly, unceasingly . . .

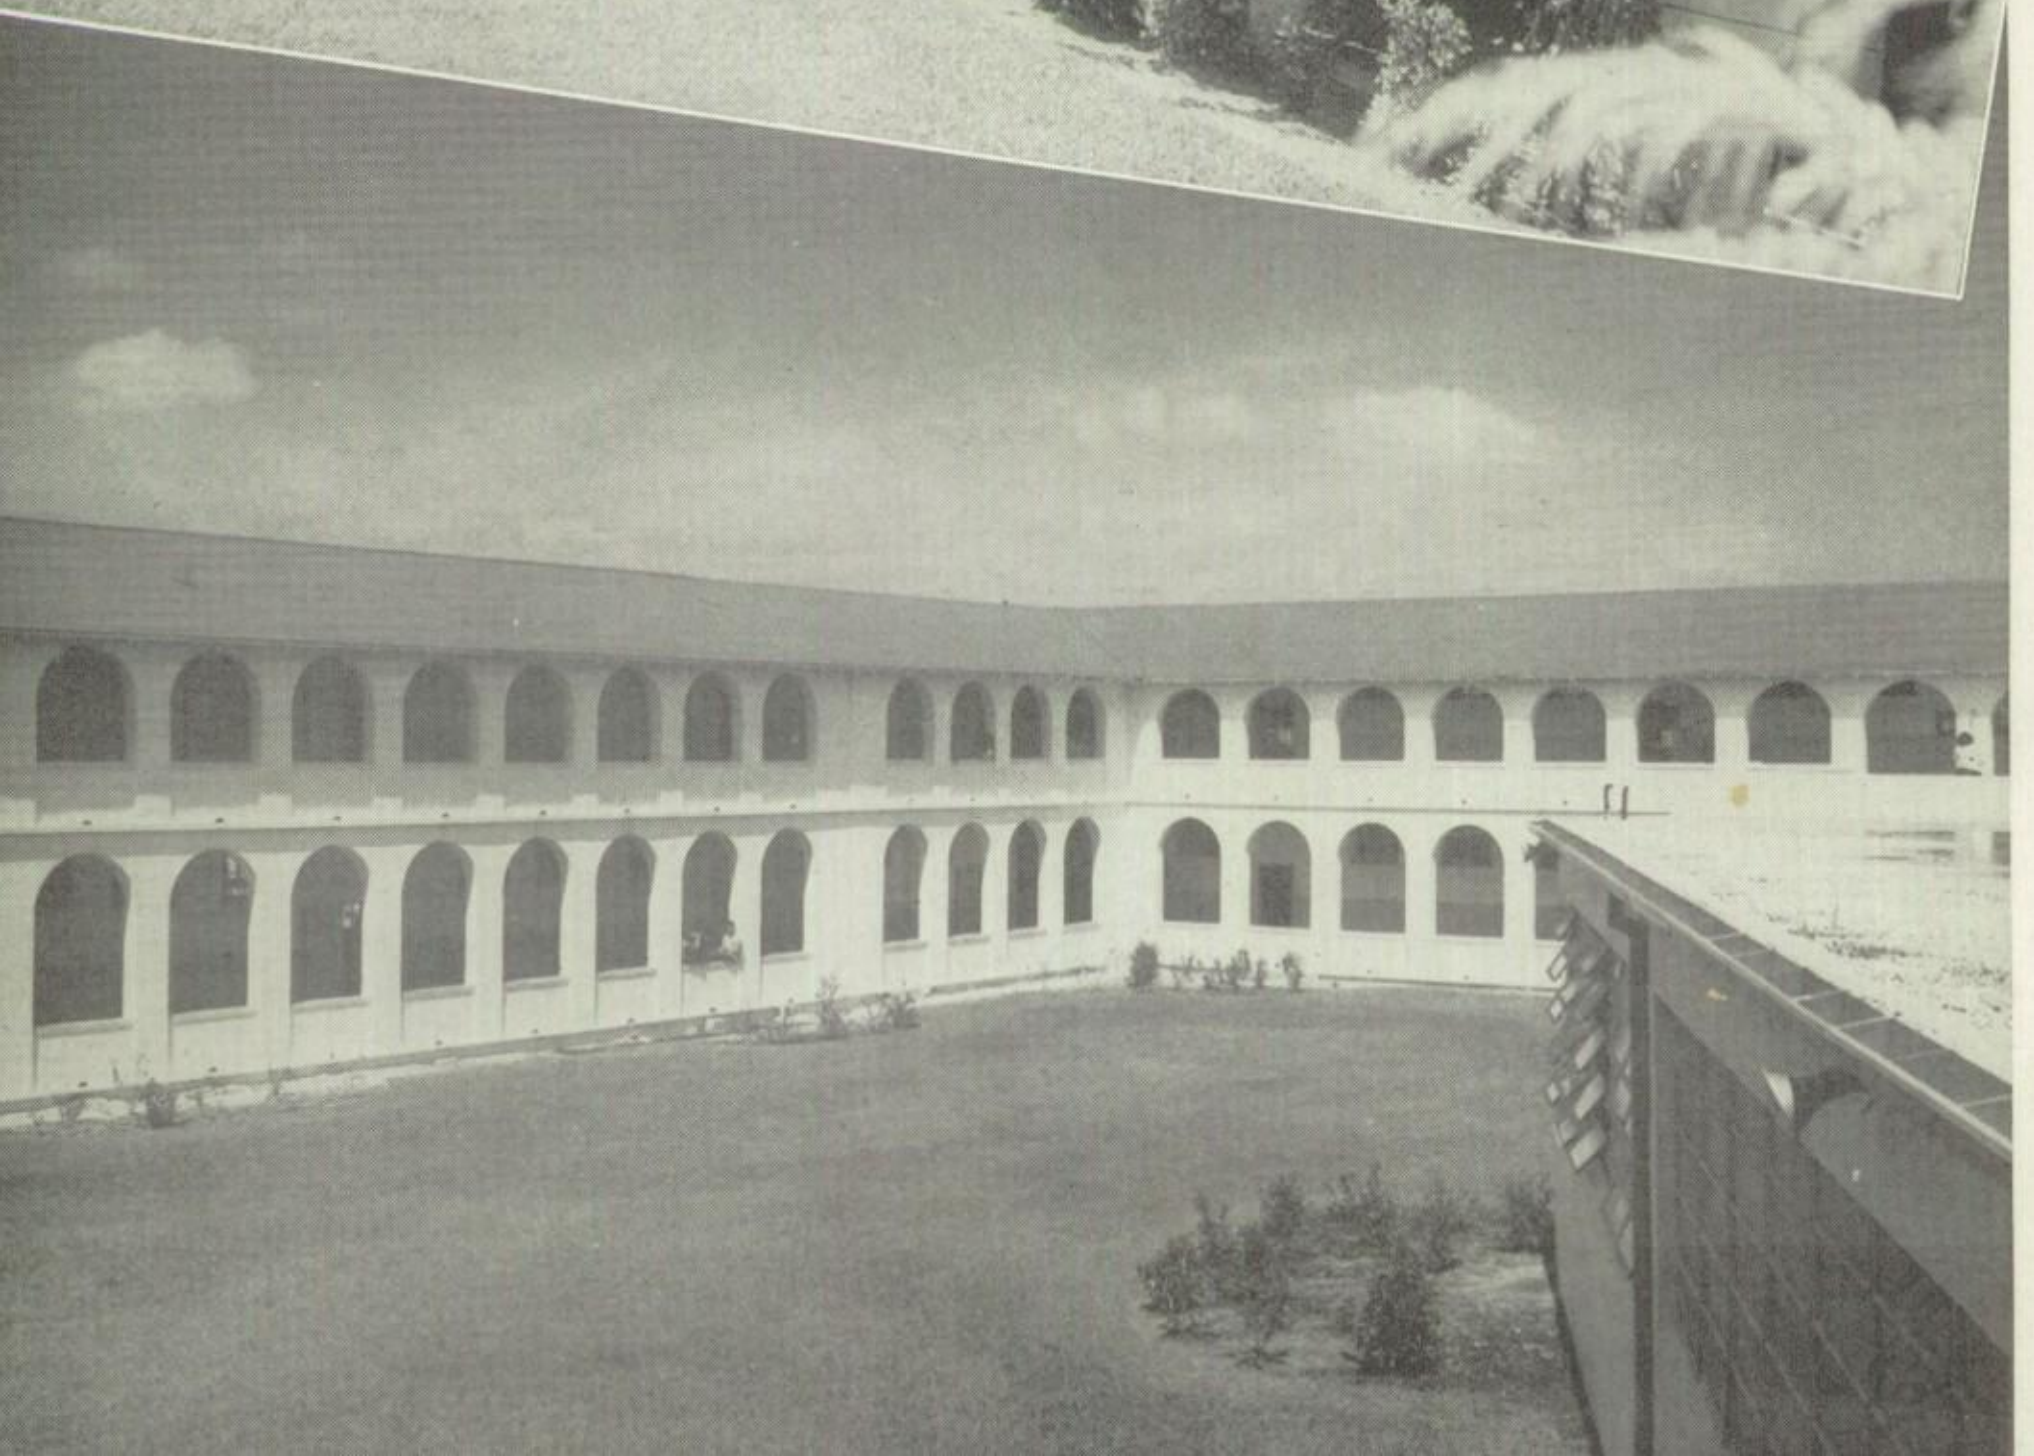

When some one has built of a flock of sand marooned portables, a structure important in the community . . .

When some one has taken the hopes and aims of hundreds of people and molded them into one . . .

When some one has been ever present, ever willing to guide and aid . . .

Then that person deserves the respect and tribute that are rightfully his . . .

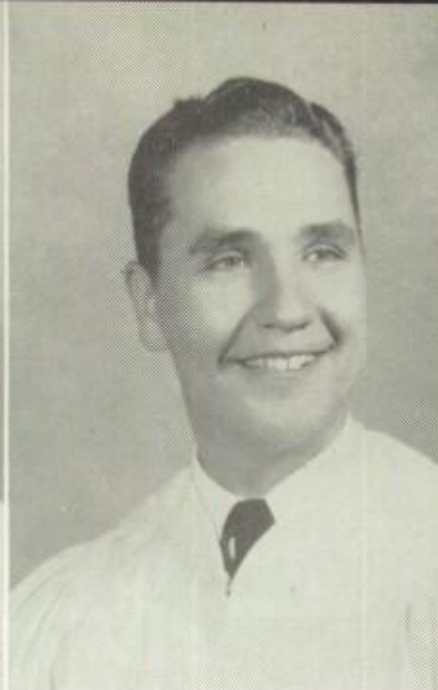

And so it is to Wesley W. Matthews that we humbly dedicate our Old Hickory of 1953.

I AM JACKSON

Joy Honey,
 I want to say how can I ever put into words what two years. We've cried on each other's shoulders over our musher in days and cried together when we made a bet - leading (you were one of the best). I prize and always will be!

A Senior's
Farewell

*I cannot say
goodbye to years Spent richly here,
without some tears.
I cannot say
goodbye and know,
However far
in life I go,
I shall remember
days with thee.
But I must go
to mold the dust
Of paths, for those who follow us.
And you who tread
these hallways still Live wisely,
know their laughter well,
a part of me.*

SATIRICALLY SPEAKING

The dog was in the book room catching up on reading.
Two boys were flipping cardboard,
Art Sweeting was leading.
Teachers hit the spot-lite,
Hear those people clapping.
Monitors patrolled the halls,
Oops, we caught one napping.
Puppets, crew-cuts, folks, ah gee!
Jackson means a lot you see.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

■ NOT TO BE OUTDONE by past junior classes, this year's eleventh graders launched right into their work with vigor. Under the able leadership of president Carl Arant and sponsor Mrs. Mary Carlson, the '53 junior-senior proms were termed as two of the most successful in Jackson's prom history.

The financial end of these proms was taken care of by the money brought in from junior playmakers, dances and bake sales.

Early in the year the junior class arranged a reception so that parents, teachers and students could become better acquainted with one another.

■ SPONSORING the tenth grade talent show furnished the main project of the sophomore class. All participants in this event were members of the tenth grade. This event was sponsored as a service benefit and therefore there was not a charge.

After the show, a reception was given to acquaint the parents with the faculty. In this way, better relations were established between students, parents and teachers.

Various other projects were undertaken during the year, many too numerous to mention here. Next year, the sophomores hope to make it an even more successful year.

Jackson Big Ten Champions

■ ROLLING TO THEIR SECOND Big Ten conference championship in the school's history, the 1952 Miami Jackson football team won nine out of ten contests. Pushing the Model T into high gear, the Generals ran over seven conference foes and two non-conference schools, tying Miami High and Edison for the city title for the second straight year. The lone defeat was a two-point loss to Miami High.

The most spectacular win was over Miami Edison, as the Generals got revenge for last year's defeat by soundly trouncing the Red Raiders, 20-0. Despite this lopsided decision, the Generals were relegated to second in the final state poll, behind, you guessed it, Miami Edison!

A large number and variety of grid hopefuls again permitted Coach Roy French and his able assistants to produce one of the few and best organized two-platoon teams in Florida. The offensive team was considered one of the best ever to wear the Green and Gold.

A lightning speed offensive team which averaged but 180 pounds per man started the Generals rolling toward a successful season. This great offensive machine rolled up an average of 25.9 points per game, one of the best productions in the state.

Left, Joe Brodsky bulls his way over the Miami High Stingarees for yardage. Right, Vosloh tackles Edison's Simpson. The crowd cheers as Jackson marches on.

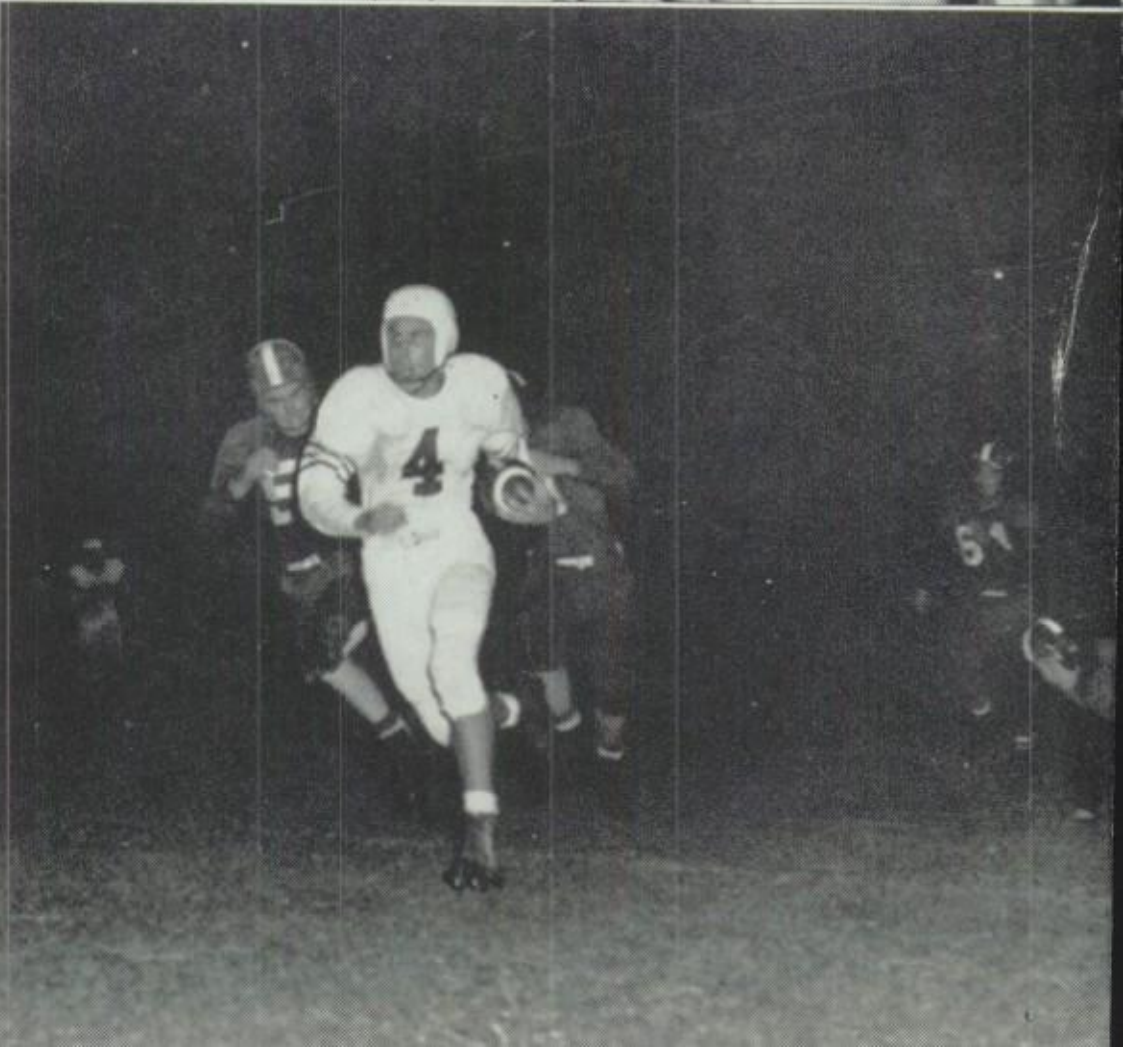

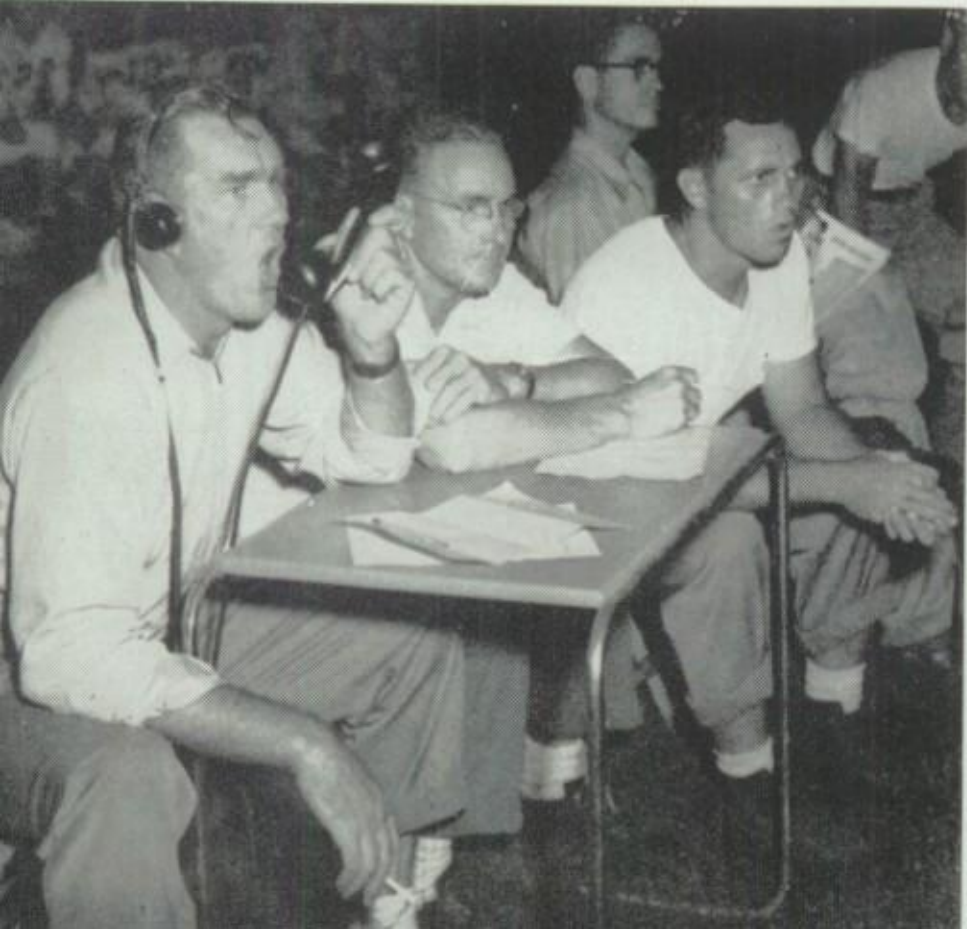

Five touchdowns were all the opposition could squeeze out of a defensive unit that averaged 200 pounds to the man both in the line and the backfield. This includes the touchdowns scored upon the reserves and lost by the offensive unit on fumbles. The opponents averaged but 5.9 points per game.

All-Southern quarterback Lee Corso led the Allapattah scorers, amassing 61 points with his keep plays and end runs. He scored ten touchdowns and one extra point.

Miami Tech-6—Miami Jackson-46

A big question lurked in the minds of everyone as to what kind of team Jackson would have, as Tech took the opening kickoff and quickly marched to the Generals' 11 before being halted. However, within a few plays the Frenchmen had scored, and they never stopped throughout the remaining periods, easily outclassing the undermanned Blue Devils.

COACH JOE McNULTY receives information from the press box as Corso breaks out into the open.

Robert E. Lee-6—Miami Jackson-14

Travelling north to Jacksonville, and perhaps slightly over-confident because of their previous victory, the Generals ran into a rough and tough Lee team. The upstaters never quit the battle until the final whistle, but it was all in vain, as the Jacksons overpowered their northern rivals for their first of many conference wins.

Landon-6—Miami Jackson-32

Eating up 250 yards on the ground and 100 more in the air, the powerful Jackson machine steamrolled the upset-minded but definitely outmanned squad from Jacksonville.

with a Lone Defeat for Coveted Title

N. Orlando-0—Miami Jackson-26

This game appeared to be but a continuation of the Landon contests as the Generals toyed with an outclassed North Orlando eleven. The visitors were unable to cope with Jackson's size, speed and confidence. Rain made playing conditions miserable in the second half, and Coach French played reserves for most of the last two periods.

Edison-0—Miami Jackson-20

A well-prepared and rested Jackson team, thirsting for revenge from last year's one point defeat, tore up the Edison defense and moved easily to victory, their fourth straight Big Ten triumph.

The offensive team made a shambles of a potent Edison defense and moved at will to score three times. Meanwhile, the defensive eleven held in the clutches and stopped highly publicized Jackie Simpson and his mates from crossing the Jackson goal. This supposedly weak defensive team gave 235 yards to the Red Raiders, but they held tight when the chips were down.

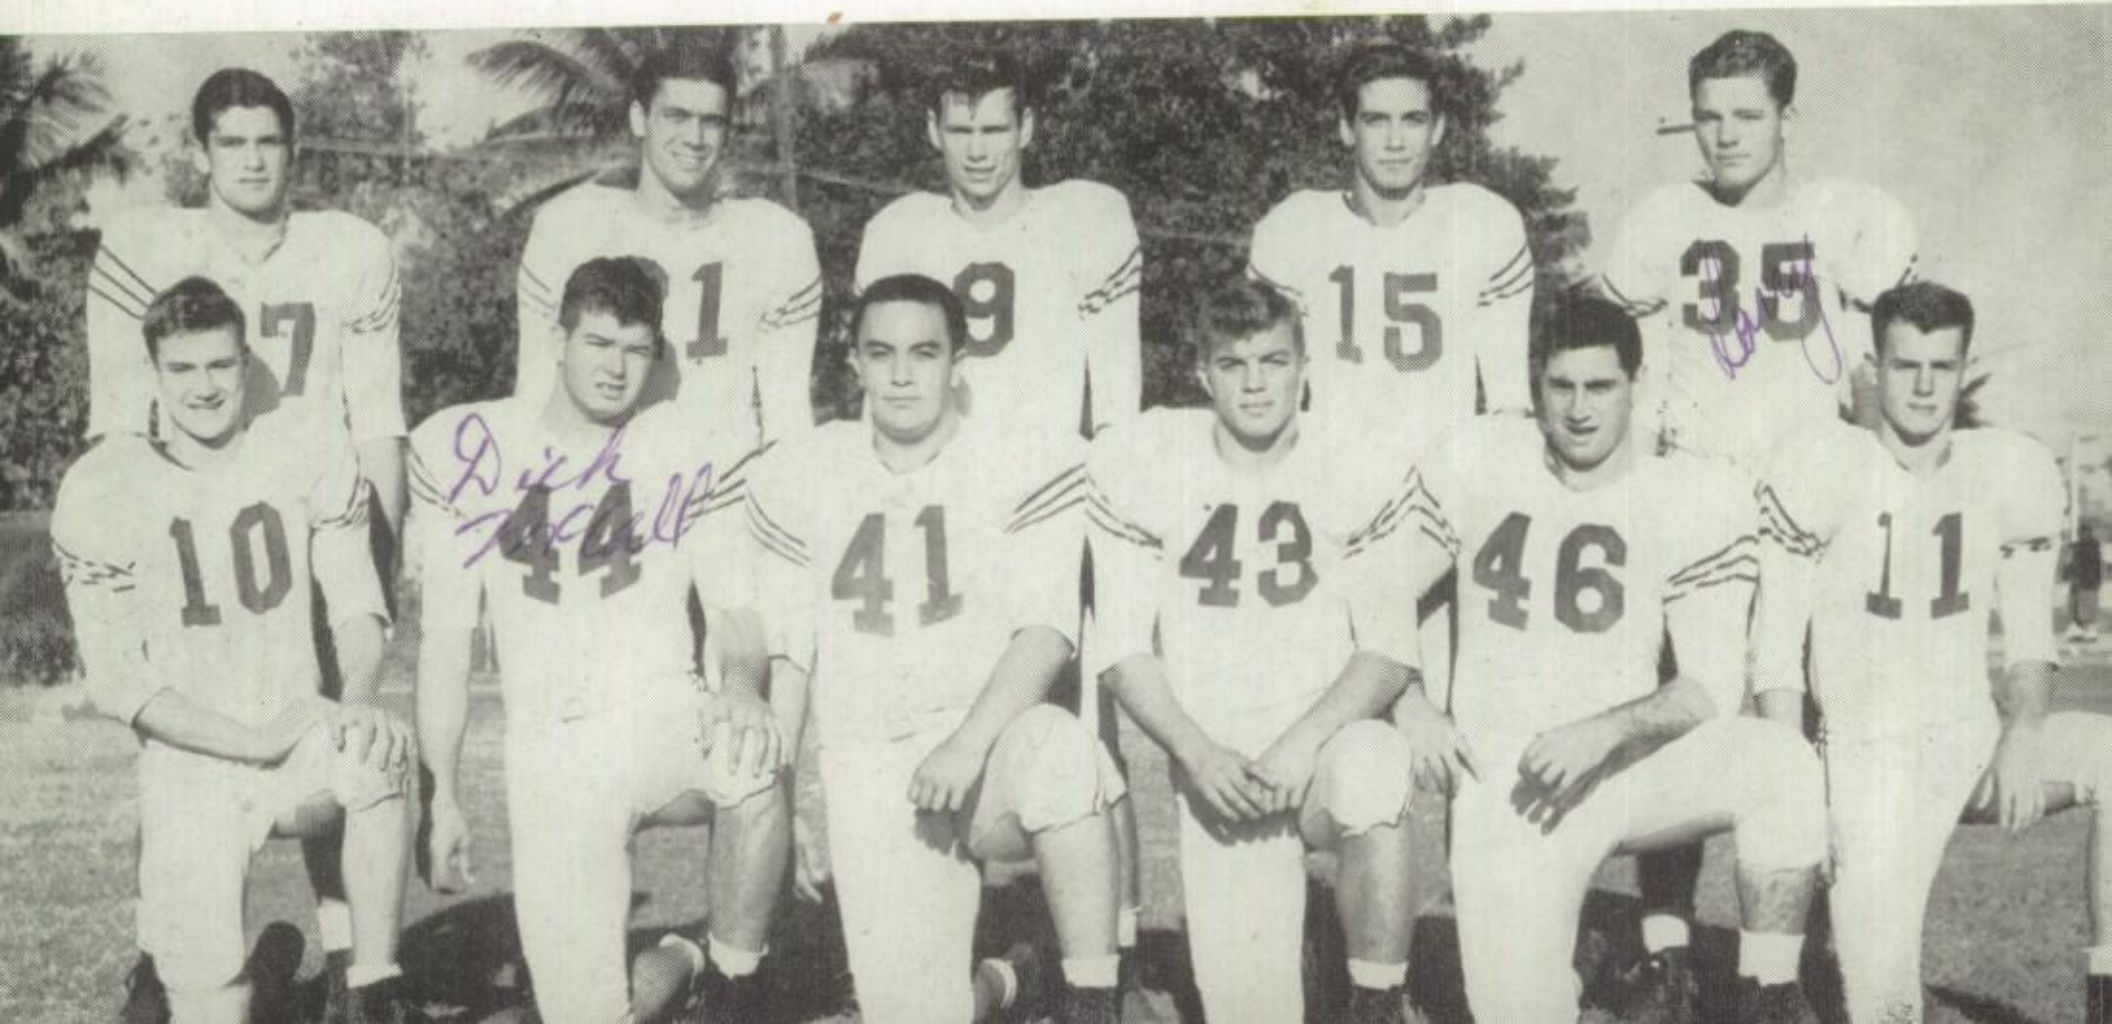

Miami High-21—Miami Jackson-19

An injury-riddled, never-say-die Jackson squad never quit until the gun.

THE SPEEDY OFFENSE which carried the Generals to a splendid record was composed of, (l. to r.) W. Lavender, B. Vosloh, D. Kenipp, B. Sittig, J. Scott, B. Schanze and T. Price. In the backfield are M. Muir, J. Brodsky, L. Corso and J. Rountree.

The Generals saw the Stingarees come from behind and upset them in the final period to knock them into a tie for the city crown. The year before Jackson had whipped Miami High, a never-before accomplished feat for a city team. But this was not to be repeated in 1952.

R. Collins, D. McCall, P. Kula, B. Marina, R. Kayal and B. Bindshadler compose the defensive line with D. Del Monico. V. Hynes, W. Brady, N. Lowe and L. Mitchell in the backfield.

Quarterback Lee Corso scored all three touchdowns for the Generals, who fought the Stings down to the wire, but never quite made up for the early loss of fullback Joe Brodsky and kicker Marshall Muir.

Coral Gables-0—Miami Jackson-27

The powerful Model T got rolling once again, and the Generals found little competition from a Gables team which was supposed to give them one of their toughest battles.

Minus the services of Joe Brodsky and Marshall Muir, and losing help of Lee Corso during the contest, the Generals were led by Jimmy Rountree.

W. Palm Beach-6—Miami Jackson-20

Starting out on their stretch drive to a Big Ten crown like a house on fire, the Generals grabbed two quick touchdowns before the Wildcats knew what happened. They bogged down then, and the aggregation gave the locals a fourth quarter scare before finally bowing to them.

Fort Lauderdale-7—Miami Jackson-34

With their eyes set on the Big Ten title, the Generals rolled over a helpless Lauderdale aggregation. Every player on the squad saw action as the Jackson machine scored with ease in every period.

Hillsborough-7—Miami Jackson-21

It was "now or never," and the Generals made it now by beating their closest competition for the title and thus bringing home the second Big Ten crown in the school's history. The trophy was accepted proudly at awards assembly and "Big Ten Champs" appeared on sweater sleeves.

19 Wins, 3 Losses Set New Record

■ COACH JOE McNULTY's "Come From Behind Kids," came up with the greatest basketball season in the history of Miami Jackson this year, winning 19 of 22 contests and going to the semifinals of the state tournament for the second time in the school's history.

The diminutive but hustling quintet turned the tables on everybody but Miami High, and only by the weird statistics of the Dickinson System had a Big Ten Conference championship taken from them.

With only three returning lettermen to start with, Coach Joe McNulty built a hustling, never quitting five around three boys—Joe Brodsky, Lee Corso and Tommy Price. Among them, these boys accounted for an incredible 987 points, more than any such combination in the city.

Brodsky was the big gun on a team which gave away at least three inches to the man in every contest. Joe ripped the nets for a 20.5 average per game and a new city scoring record of 453 points. He was followed in scoring by little Lee Corso with 306 points. Tom Price collected 228 for third spot in team scoring.

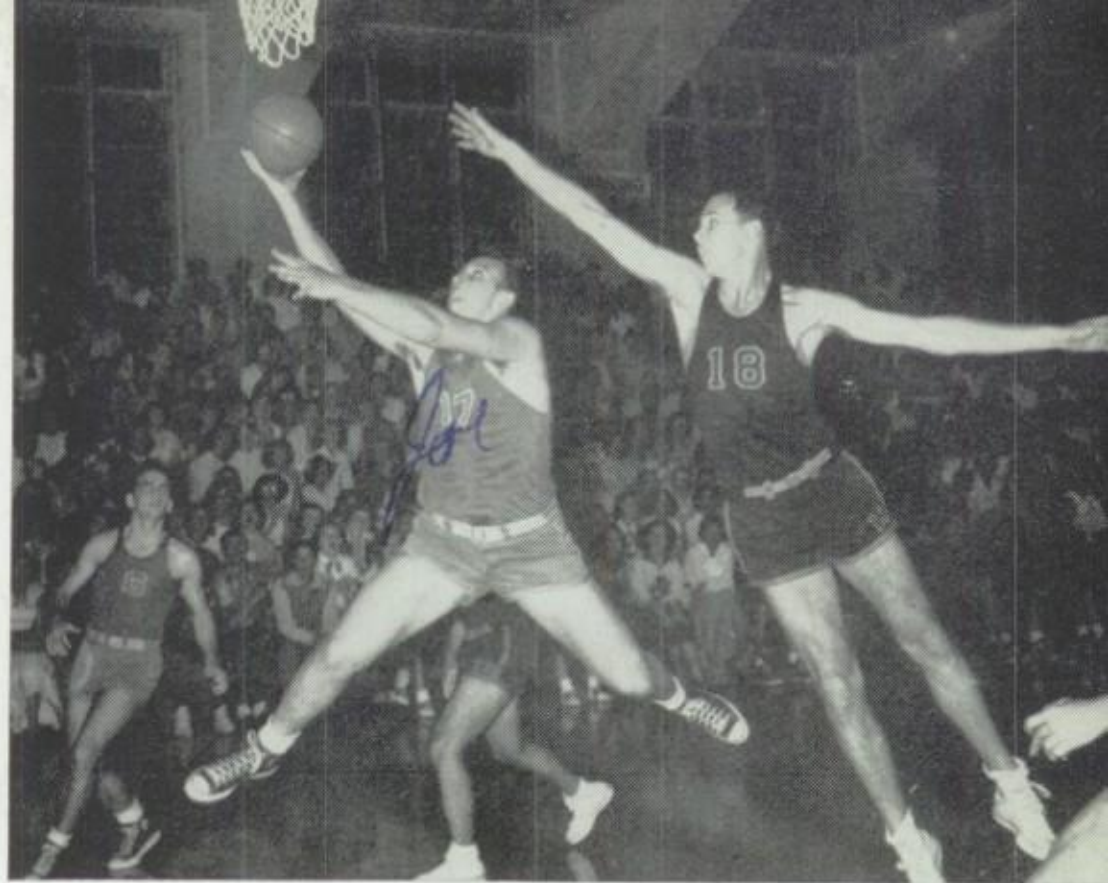

Brodsky and Lauderdale's Savage go up for rebound as others look on.

Starting off like a house afire, the Generals won six straight contests before they were nicked by much taller teams from Jacksonville and Miami High. After this, however, the Allapattah whiz kids got back on the win trail with 10 consecutive wins, including a revenge triumph over Jacksonville Jackson. Here again, the Stingaree jinx got them, 49-42.

Although they were unable to solve their arch enemies from the south side, the Generals did knock off the state champions, Fort Lauderdale twice, something no other team could accomplish.

In the District IV tournament, the Jacksonites won their opening contest easily over an outmanned Miami Beach team. However, in the second round, they were nicked by the destined state champions, Fort Lauderdale twice. Coming from thirteen points behind, the Generals cinched a state berth by nudging Miami Edison, 59-57, on a last second field goal by Bill Morris.

Competing among the best, the Generals were again forced to come behind to upset Robert E. Lee in the state tourney's first round, when Joe Brodsky dumped in a last minute goal to give them a thrilling 49-47 edge. Here again, the Stingaree jinx hit them, dropping them from the running 59-50.

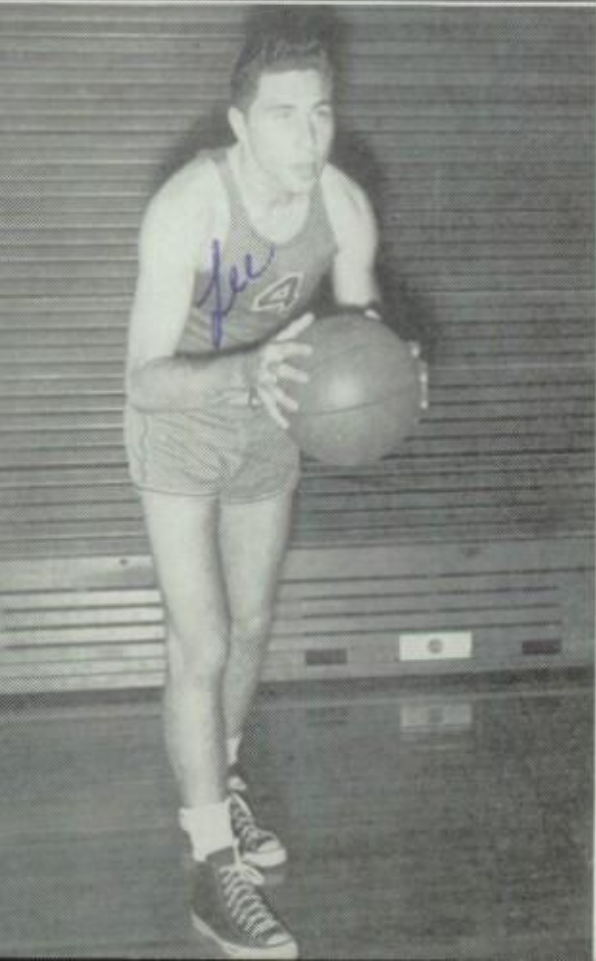

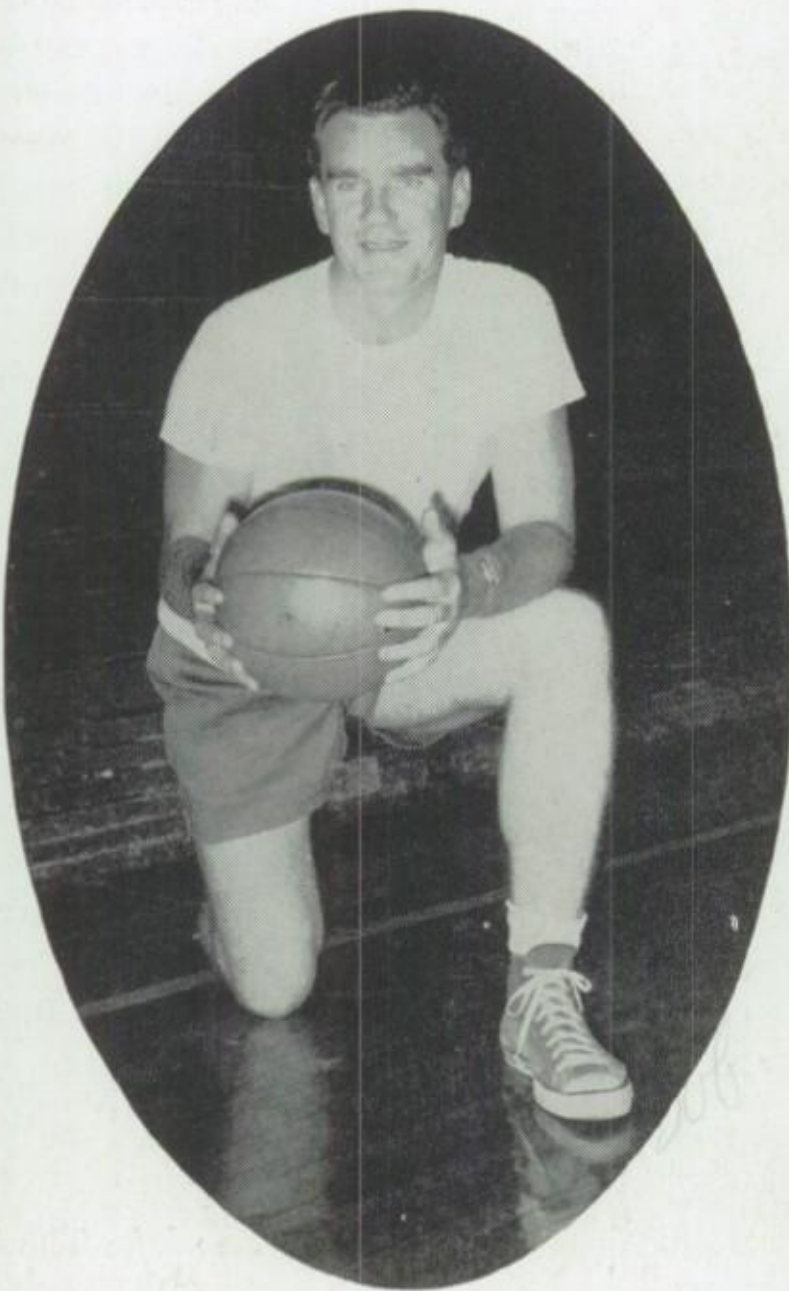

As expected, Brodsky and Corso led the parade to the post for season honors. Both were awarded a berth on the All-City five, and Lee was further honored with an All-State berth. On the second-string All-City was Tommy Price.

Brodsky supplied the scarce height that the Generals carried during the season, standing six foot one. Price and Morris stood five-eleven; Corso, at five-nine and guard Jimmy Rountree, at five-eight.

McNulty will have to build next year's team around Rountree and Kearns, as four first stringers, Brodsky, Price, Corso, and Morris graduate. Also returning next year will be George Tammell, Bill Parker, Bob Joy and Bob Fowler. The coach will receive additional help from the "B" squad as five of these boys show promise.

Diamondmen Sport 9-8 Mark

Jackson's baseball nine entered district play with a 2-1 victory over Coral Gables as the diamondmen ended a winning season with a 9-8 overall record.

After having taken leadership of the Big Ten, district and city races with a popular 6-1 mark, the Generals slumped and lost six of their eight remaining games. Baseball coach John "Red" Tobin termed "inexperience of pitchers; young green team with only two seniors" as the main reason for the late slump. Jackson's losses were hard for many to understand as the luckless Generals constantly outhit and outpitched opponents.

Benny Bindschadler sported the city's best pitching record (five wins and one loss) while Fred Gispert's .460 batting average was among the leaders in that division, along with Lee Corso, who batted .360. These sluggers were followed by Angelo Ponton (.318), Basil Marotta (.279), and Ronnie Brent (.273) who shared in supplying most of Jackson's batting power. Walter Waldron, Jackson's catcher, hit Jackson's lone home run, while Gispert contributed 11 extra base blows—7 doubles and 3 triples, driving in 20 runs. Gispert and Corso landed All-City berths.

Cinder Burners Best Yet

■ JACKSON'S '53 CINDER-BURNERS ran themselves into their most successful season as they placed fourth in the Class AA meet. The Green and Gold team outscored all South Florida opponents with the exception of Miami High, who finished third.

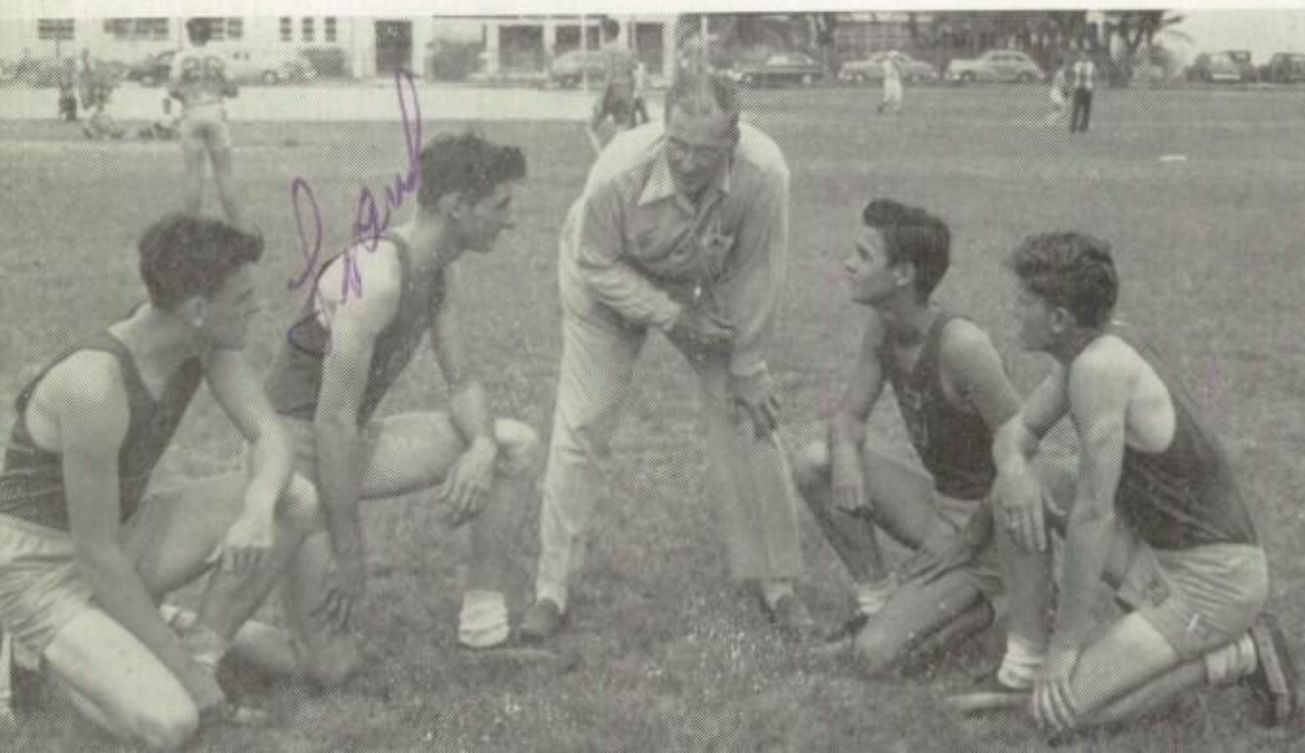

Coach Harry Lee termed this "the strongest state meet I've ever been in." With only seven returning lettermen, Lee built one of Jackson's strongest track squads. Six school records, three Big Ten records, and one state mark were shattered as the Generals rolled to a third place in the Big Ten and Regionals.

The mile relay, half mile run, sprint medley, shotput, discus and broad jump were the events in which the new school records were set. The sprint medly team of Ken Chapman, Ed Campbell, John Sanders and Frank Bright, who hold the district record, also set a new school mark.

Although the Generals will lose such stars as Joe Brodsky, weightman; John Sanders, sprinter; Marshall Muir, broad jumping ace; Will Brady, pole vaulter; Frank Bright (Mr. 440); dashmen Ken Chapman and Ed Campbell, they will still have their supply of returnees in Sonny Casca, hurdler; Al Lewis, dashman, and Dick McCall, weightman, who will head next year's list of tracksters.

As the track season came to an end All-City honors were bestowed upon the outstanding track men of the year. Jackson was able to dominate four positions on the All-City cinder team.

John Sanders had the honor of being the best 880 man in the city while Frank Bright was chosen as the outstanding 440 yard dash main. Marshall Muir, who broadjumped 21 feet 11 inches, was considered as the best in the state. The other berth was given to Will Brady, a pole vaulter who was always a constant point maker.

3:30 SPORTS

■ JACKSON'S INTRAMURAL sports program was guided for the second consecutive year by Coach "Babe" Lapore as over a hundred boys, from the tenth to twelfth grades, turned out to participate in this activity.

A plan of activities like this gives the boys a chance to play football, basketball, softball, tennis or run track and even compete in swimming.

The intramural year was started with football (the less tough touch variety) in which Fred Gispert's Eagles won the crown with a 7-0 record, far in front of oncoming competition. Volleyball followed with Basil Marotta's assembly walking off with top honors in this single elimination event.

Next was the intramurals sandlot version of a fast basketball game with Art Chrestman's congregation losing two close games then going on to win with a 6-2 overall record. Jack Miller scored 50 odd points in one game to set a school record.

Track followed with an individual race for top honors as Rudy Hinds edged Carl Arant who had a first, second and third place in as many events. Hind's winning combination was two firsts and a second. Badminton entered into the picture with a newcomer, Corky Ross, totaling 153 points to outscore Bob Tatom and Jim Wilson with 132 and 160 points respectively. In tennis, which drew a less popular attendance, John Gardner beat Danny Carrero and Jim Schaeffer for the singles finals crown.

The top ten boys with intramural points will receive a six inch letter while the next ten will be awarded a green and gold certificate of achievement. Points will be awarded on the basis of five for entrance, ten for winning a game; twenty-five if the team wins a championship, while the runners-up in each sport receive fifteen extra digits. Captains are credited with ten extra points also.

This program is to stimulate interest in the school activities among the boys who don't participate in the major sports. In this way a lot of boys come in contact with each other and this gives them a keen sense of good sportsmanship and competition.

GIRLS FIGHT for rebound in exciting basketball tussel.

■ JACKSON'S BADMINTON TEAM which has not been defeated in four years tied with Miami High for the Dade County championship as both teams accumulated 12 points.

Corky Ross upset Bob Tatom 15-9, though earlier he had lost a set game to him 5-2, to win the boys singles.

Suzanne Davis battled Miami High's entry a close finish as Miami High won the girls' singles title.

Darrell Bellew and James Wilson teamed up in the boys' doubles to defeat the Gables and boost Jackson into its tie for the title.

Jim Tombley and Virginia Sanchez dropped the mixed doubles to Miami High (15-9, 15-9) although earlier they had defeated them 15-4.

In softball Jackson fell victim to a strong Edison nine and lost their bid for a first place. Edison won this close game 4-1. The Gens were able to defeat all other opponents as they ended with a proud second. Pupi Medina was one of the many Jackson standouts this year.

Jackson shared a temporary first place with Edison and Miami Senior although they lost out in this event when Edison emerged a sudden death victor. Miami High, who had earlier lost to Edison, rebounded to win the title. Jackson defeated Edison in their first encounter as they finished in a second place tie with Edison.

On attempt to introduce a new scoring system for the volleyball tournament, held at Miami U., prevented any one team from obtaining top honors. Jackson, however, was among the leaders in won-lost games with a 2-1 mark. Jackson's girls defeated Edison in this event.

Modern dance, directed by Miss Jane Mitchell, is expanding each year. This dance group is becoming more popular as the years progress. This year's "combo" took part in a dance drama as well as the famed Minstrel.

Tankers' Year Successful

■ JACKSON'S TANKERS splashed their way to a fairly successful season as the boys' squad won 11 meets and lost five while the girls had a 7-4 record. The girls' squad represented a city championship gathering as they shared third place in the district meet with the boys.

The girls ended their season with a win over Coral Gables, 95-90. At the State meet the mermaids should be a big threat.

With not quite as strong a boys' assembly as last year's team the "little men" will travel to Daytona Beach for a state meet. Eight Jacksonites from the boys' squad qualified along with the same number of girls.

Jackson should come out among the leaders with such "fish" as Willis Bevis, Roy Bowen, Ronnie Lewis and Steve Blesch. This foursome recently teamed in the 200-yard free-style to break the old school record with a 1:43.2 effort.

The boy's team ended their season with a fourth in the state meet as Fort Lauderdale again ran away with top honors. In the girl's meet the mermaids from Jackson finished fourth, Lauderdale again winning as they conquered all opponents.

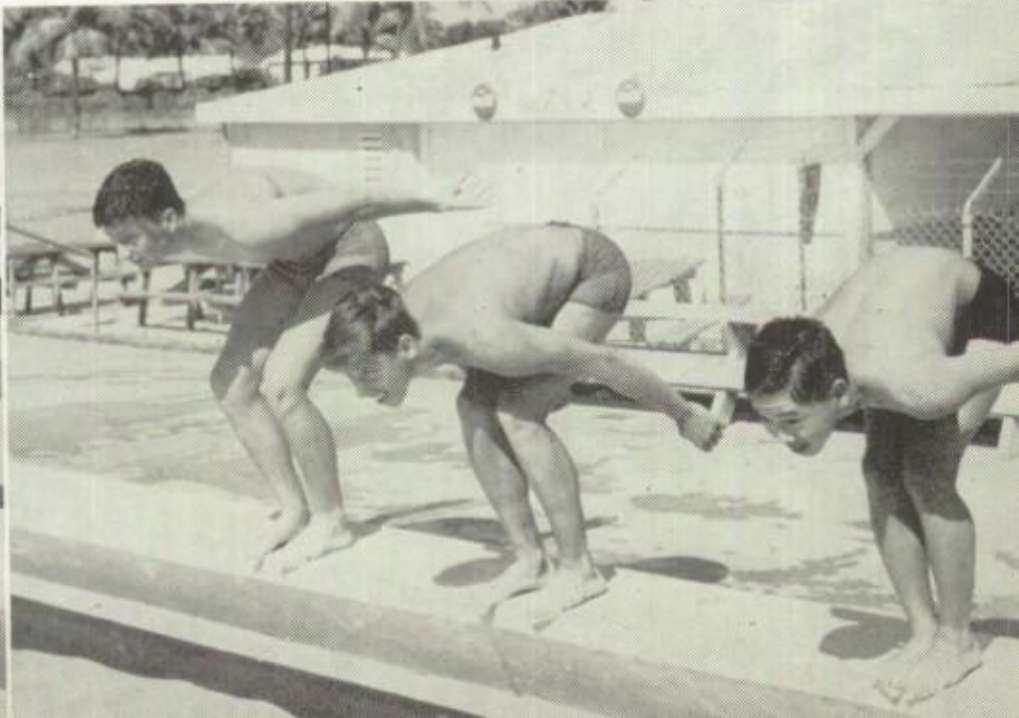

Coach Wright's team will only lose four seniors by graduation as most of the team is composed of freshmen and sophomores. Seniors, Bevis, Lewis, White and Bowen will be lost, but, with potential aces such as Bob Duganne, backstroker; Roy Taeitesi, free-styler; and with two more all around swimmers—Dick Hardie and Steve Blesch, Mr. Wright hopes to fill the vacancies.

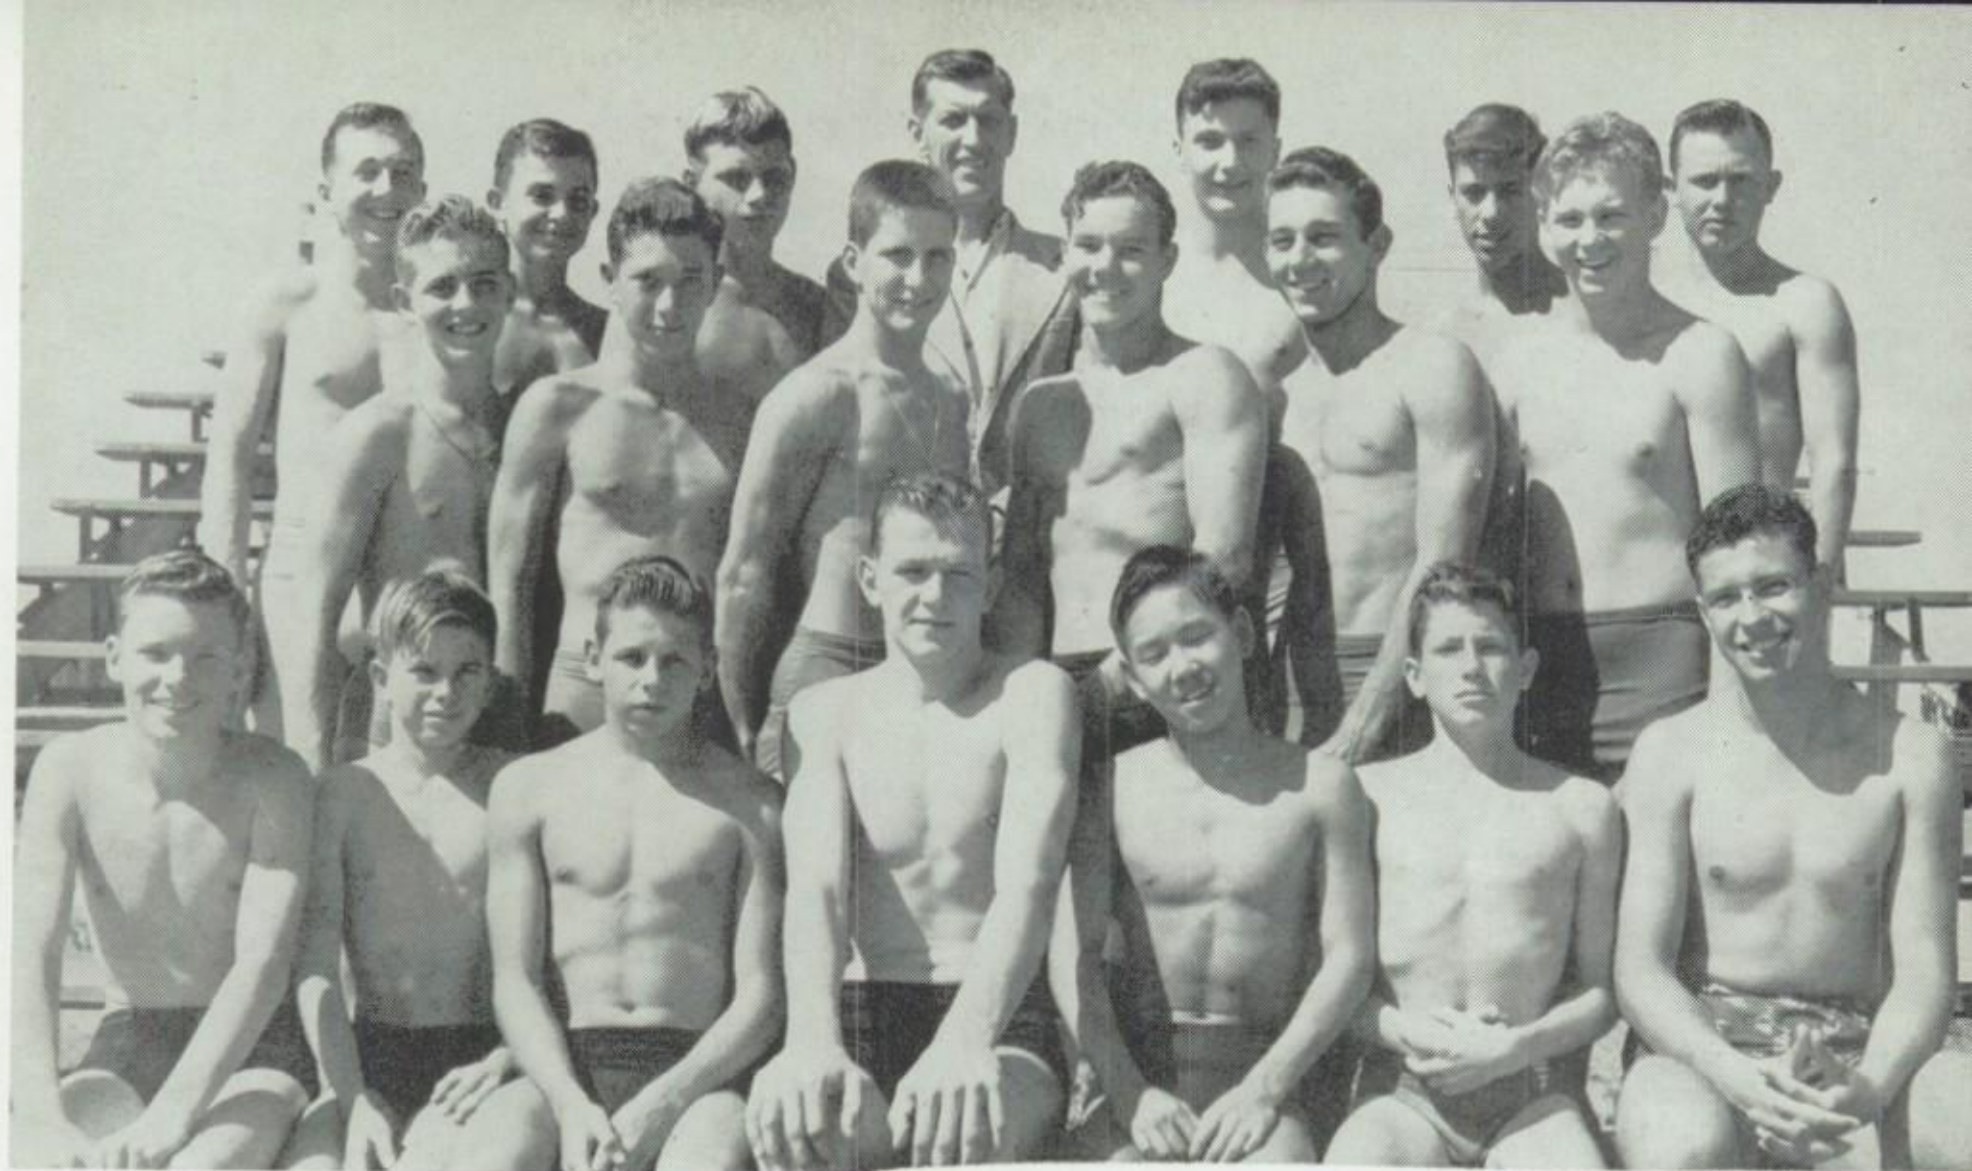

The aqua-maids will have free-styler, Sarah Parrish and backstroker, Bonnie MacGregor back to strengthen their squad.

Racquet Squad

■ JACKSON'S TENNIS TEAM placed fourth in the regional playoffs for their most successful season despite the bad facilities in which they had to practice. Under the leadership of James Baugher and Ruth Engel, the squad had a poor year despite their "desire" to win.

Sidney Robinson, top man on the boys' team, along with Bill Anderson combined to make a good doubles combination, but the competition was too keen for them. The girls' ace, Nancy Bassett, teamed with Judy Cisco in the girls' doubles.

As the season ended Robinson was rated number one on the boys' team with Anderson in the number two slot. Dean Bieber, Barry Harlow and Joaquin Pena were third, fourth and fifth respectively. Jerry Miller was the sixth man.

Seeded in the number one spot for the girls was Bassett with Cisco and Joyce Potter in the second and third berths. The fourth, fifth and sixth positions were held down by Eha Kagu, Joan Thayer and Myra Smith.

The outlook for next year's team is great since all six of these boys will return. Judy Cisco, a ninth grader, is the brightest spot in the girls team future.

First on the list of their activities is the "Beat Edison or Bust" dance. These feminine athletes proved their varied abilities by constructing and painting curbstones for the teacher's parking area. The proceeds of their various projects went to purchase uniforms for the girls participating in G.A.A. and city-wide tournaments.

The club was rewarded for service efforts with a camping trip. As usual the stay in the great outdoors proved a highlight of the year, memories of which provided fuel for many a "gab fest." Guiding light of the girls is Miss Sarah Bennett of the physical education department.

Council Serves Students

■ GOVERNMENT of by and for the students, made possible through an efficiently organized Student Council, has helped to build Jackson into a well-run community. Often described as the "backbone" of the school, Student Council life enriches campus life by service projects and social activities which make for school spirit.

Special emphasis was placed on the clean up campaign, which was continued throughout the year. The Student Council bought fans for the gym and the equipment used for the annual Christmas program.

Annual affairs such as student week, talent show, coronation ball, student day, and color day were carried out successfully.

Learning's Their Forte

■ THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY, built on the foundation of character, scholarship, leadership and service, has as its symbol, the flaming torch of learning.

It is the highest honor ever to come to a high school student to attain membership in this organization. This society, founded in 1939, is one of the oldest of Jackson's groups. In order to be eligible for membership into this society, one must have maintained a B average since the tenth grade. Students must participate in at least two activities, and be recommended by the faculty.

It is the philosophy of the National Honor Society to meet outside of school so more emphasis can be placed on other activities by the ever-active members. Consequently the society has few projects, but stands behind the school in its many projects and undertakings.

Hi-Y Serves School

■ JACKSON'S CHAPTER of the Young Man's Christian Association, the Hi-Y Club, has been unusually successful with its many service projects this year.

Under the able direction of Mr. Ben Porch and Mr. R. G. Johnson, along with the close help of Mr. Herb Ball of the North West Y.M.C.A., the Jackson chapter has done its utmost to maintain, and to extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

The Hi-Y has sponsored many projects throughout the year. Starting the year off with a bang, the boys sponsored the sweetheart dance to formally initiate their sweetheart, Pat Scheibling.

Their activities include ushering at football and basketball games, decorations for dances, and encouraging the campaign for the blood drive. They received special recognition for their successful work on the heart contest. The Hi-Y's most important and highly praised project of the year was the annual White Christmas project.

For Humanity's Sake

■ "THERE, but for the grace of God goes myself." This might adequately summarize the drives behind this organization's purpose . . . to serve. Under the able guidance of Miss Irene Frambach, faculty sponsor, this club undertakes several projects each year.

One of the main goals of the club is to sponsor drives for overseas boxes. Each homeroom is given as many boxes to fill as possible. They are sent to children in foreign countries. The club also backs the national Red Cross drive.

Meetings are held downtown each month. Here all schools meet to discuss future events and undertakings. This year Roberta Montague was elected president of the Jr. Red Cross in the county.

Leaders in Melody

■ THE MODERN MUSIC MASTERS, a newly formed musical society on a national level, was created to establish and maintain a higher degree of musical performance, to uphold the principles of leadership and service, and to build worthwhile tradition in the Miami Jackson choruses.

This society held two tappings this year, each followed by an informal and formal initiation. Requirements for the organization include a B average in chorus and a C average in the remaining academic subjects.

■ THIS ORGANIZATION represents the highest honor attainable for music students. Besides fulfilling the national requirements, students must meet local standards. A member must have a large number of merits before entering into this society.

Although Modern Music Masters is a relatively new organization, the members have been making many new plans for the coming year. They wish to be one of the most desirable honor societies in the school.

And I Say to You . . .

■ THE NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE, speech honor society is an organization of speech and debate enthusiasts.

N.F.L. highlights included trips all over the Southern United States. N.F.L.ers represented Jackson at the state discussion tournament at Gainesville where they won two superior and two excellent ratings; the district and state Student Congresses at Sarasota and Tallahassee; and the State N.F.L. Contest at Jacksonville where Joyce Koumjian captured the title of the best orator in the state.

The varsity debate team continued on to Greenville, S. C. with Mrs. Bertha Hunt, sponsor, to bring home two superior ratings.

Under the leadership of Joyce Koumjian, president of the chapter for both semesters, the N.F.L. added approximately 30 members and degrees.

N.F.L. sponsors two tenth grade debate tournaments each year in order to give 10th graders who are interested in debate a chance to make N.F.L. points.

"Are you ready? Let's go!" And Jackson's cheerleaders always are ready and willing to lead students and their friends in vigorous yells for alma mater.

Whether on the green turf of the gridiron or the smooth floor of the basketball court, the rah rah girls enthusiastically cheer the Jackson teams on to glorious victory or support them to the bitter end in the not-too-many moments of defeat.

It's "V-I-C-T-O-R-Y, Jackson Generals, Men of Might, Fight, Fight," and "One Zip Two Zip" as green skirts swirl and nimble feet dart to and fro before the stands of excited spectators.

Long hours of practice are needed for the cheerleaders to reach this necessary precision. Because of the time consumed in this, it is required that girls chosen be the type that have high scholastic standing. So the cheerleaders combine beauty and brains at Jackson.

Jackson Says "Howdy"

Smiling coyly, Jackson's fairer eleven look up from a pinwheel formation "just for Old Hickory."

Beat Me, Daddy!

These rah rah gals give with the grins as they perform a well known cheer.

One Zip! Two Zip!

Adding a bit of sunshine to the rainiest game are the Jackson cheerleaders, full of fun and frolic.

Do Unto Others

■ ONE of the outstanding service clubs at Jackson is the Junior Miss club sponsored by the Northeast Junior Women's Club.

The club's main project is to help support the farm colony in Gainesville, for mentally retarded children. Under the supervision of Mrs. Forrest, faculty sponsor, the girls made toys, collected clothes, and bought books with money they made on their two annual dances, the turnabout dance and the Christmas formal. The club also purchased mirrors for the girl's rest rooms. Key Club and Jr. Miss collaborated in the March of Dimes drive, collecting almost $500 in the school.

Jr. Miss also assisted in drives for cerebral palsy, the cardiac fund, and the disabled veterans' fund. During the cleanup campaign, sponsored by the Student Council, they strived to keep the rest rooms clean.

All types of sewing are done including embroidery, doll clothes, crocheting, and knitting. The main project of the year was to make dolls for the Variety Children's Hospital.

Instruction is given in the basic fundamentals of sewing. Booklets, articles, and magazines are available to students to assist them in furthering their sewing hobbies.

■ THE MODERN MISS can be as thrifty with the needle as grandmother was. This is proven by the girls in the Modern Miss club, sponsored by Mrs. Julia Freeman. Organized in 1949 by Mrs. Freeman, this club has undertaken many worthwhile projects of benefit to the community.

The members of the club decide upon the projects in which they are going to participate. Among their activities for the fall of 1952 was the making of flowers from wood pulp. The Modern Miss is rapidly becoming one of the leading girls' clubs of the school.

Break Forth

■ A CULMINATION of vocal arts was the annual operetta, Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado," presented by the Senior Mixed chorus under the direction of Mrs. Laura DeFonso.

This choral group performed in a special music assembly, the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter assemblies; the Christmas concert, the sunrise service, the S.A.S.C. convention, Bayfront Park auditorium, and the Lions and Woman's clubs.

In May, the chorus presented their annual spring concert, which included a one act play, "Down in the Valley."

■ THROUGH this year's outstanding performance, the chorus received a "I" in the district contest. This award enabled the group to attend the state contest in Tampa, where they were further rewarded by receiving an excellent rating.

Requirements for entering this organization include a superior rating in either Boys or Girls Chorus. When a member receives entrance into Mixed Chorus, the final goal is reached.

One of the finest events put on by the chorus was their Christmas program. Student Council donated $500 toward sponsoring the inspirational presentation. Various scenes were enacted to bring to life certain incidents in the Bible. The chorus provided a musical background by singing favorite Christmas carols.

Into Song

■ THIS inspirational program, exemplifying all the spirit of the Christmas season, was presented to the Parent Teacher association as well as to three assemblies. Through the use of a special curtain, lovely effects were reproduced as the beautiful story of the Christ child unfolded. The candlelight procession of the chorus members, in their flowing white robes added to the drama of the occasion.

In staging the Yuletide production, the chorus was assisted by members of the drama department.

Plans are being made each year to produce such a program as will bring out the true spirit of Christmas.

Blithe in tone was the springtime concert, with many catchy melodies along with more serious pieces. This marked the last appearance of the chorus before the baccalaureate, in

■ DURING THIS YEAR, members of the Girls Chorus have kept quite active participating in their various activities. With the assistance of the Boys Chorus, they harmonized in the Christmas concert, yuletide patio sing, and the North Miami Community song fest.

Independently, they vocalized in the Florida Music Educators Association district contest, the Easter sunrise service and climaxed the year by participating in the Spring Concert.

Adding their harmonious tones, along with the Girls Chorus, to the Lion's Club Christmas program and the Christmas concert, are two of the year's main projects.

For the first time in the Boys' Chorus history, the group received a "superior" in the Florida Music Education Association district contest.

■ WITH THE IDEA in mind that music soothes the soul, the Junior Glee Club meets every Friday morning to join in "music at random." Members do not sing one particular style, but go in for all types including popular, spiritual, classical and even "hill-billy" (at rare moments).

This group consists of students who are particularly interested in music. Several of the members sing in chorus. The Glee Club participants differ from chorus because they may select the kind of music they desire to sing.

Our Band—

■ DURING THE PAST YEAR, the Miami Jackson band, baton ballet and flying twirlers have risen to great heights of triumph. With only four weeks vacation in the summer of 1952, the fast-stepping aggregation performed in Soldiers Field, Chicago for the college All-Star football game. They then traveled by plane to Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, where they took part in the country's independence celebration.

After these trips the band began rehearsals for their colorful football half-time shows which have made Jackson famous throughout the country, a tribute to Bandmaster Jones.

Allen Alexander, drum major.

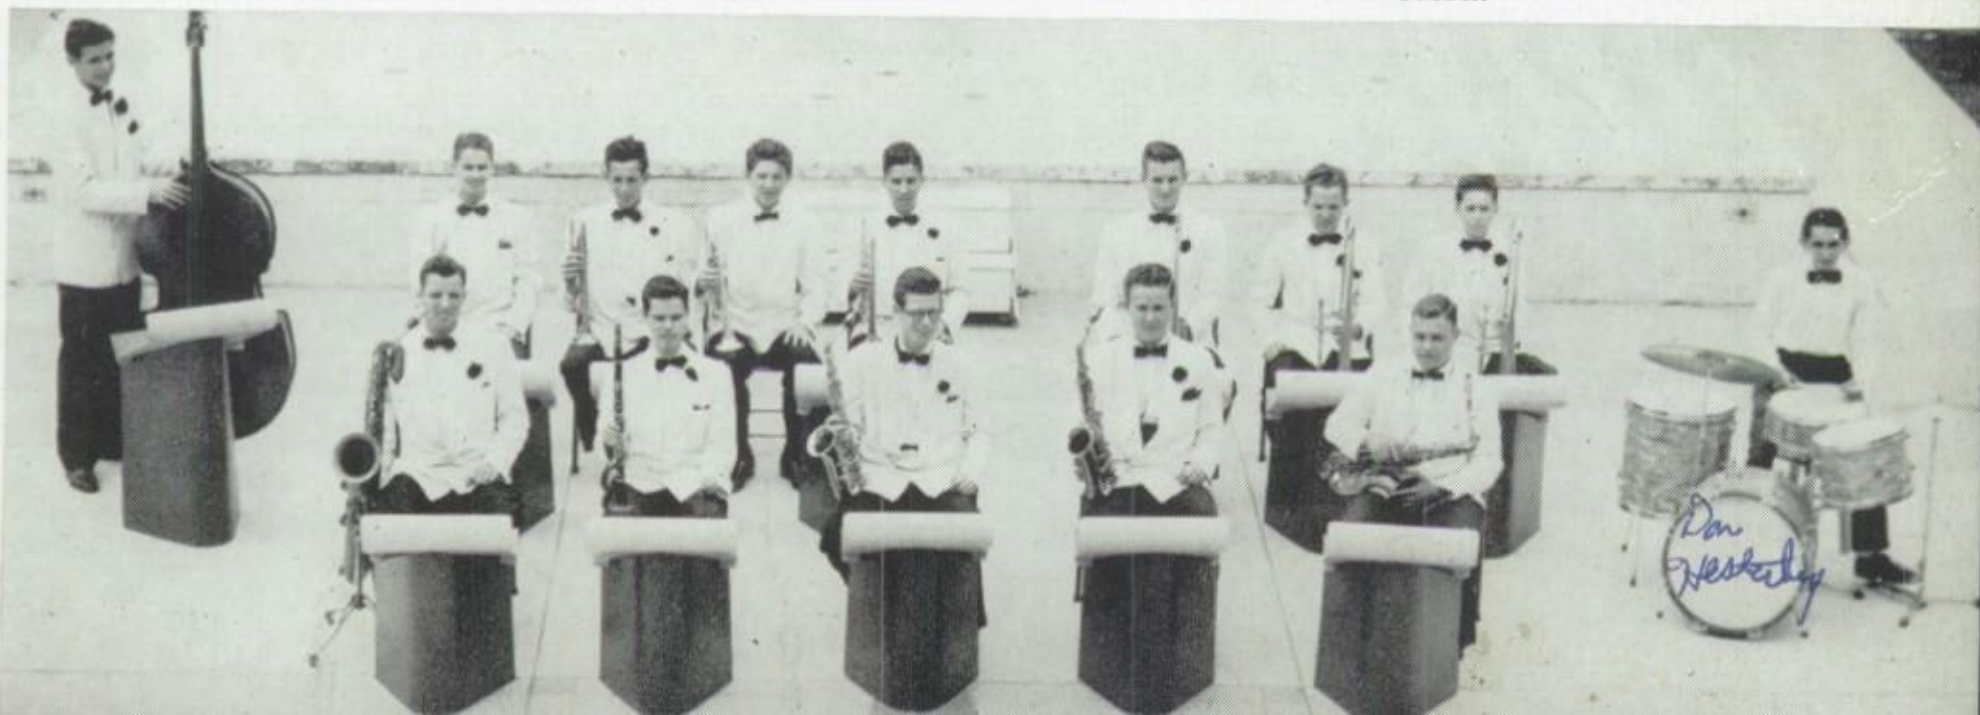

Our Pride and Joy

Adding a glorious note to the Christmas season the band presented their annual concert complete with Santa Claus and yuletide music.

Joining the other Miami bands, the Jackson band marched in the King Orange Jamboree parade and then performed in the New Years Day game.

Dressed in their best are members of the orchestra.

Jackson's cadets line up at attention displaying their worthy talents in precision drill and marching.

With tourist trade in mind, the city of Miami publicity department took movies of the band, in their bathing suits as they marched and frolicked on the beach at Matheson Hammock.

The latter part of February came and along with it was the ever popular Minstrel which the Band presents annually.

No sooner was the Minstrel over than the contingent of musicians and twirlers journeyed to nearby Havana to participate in Carnival Time.

Next came contest time with the band and soloists coming through with superior honors.

Finally rounding out a successful season, the band presented their annual spring concert, and also were present to supply the music for June Commencement.

Playing a most important part in the band's popularity is this versatile organization composed of various band members of the band, the Music Writers.

Hickory Helpers

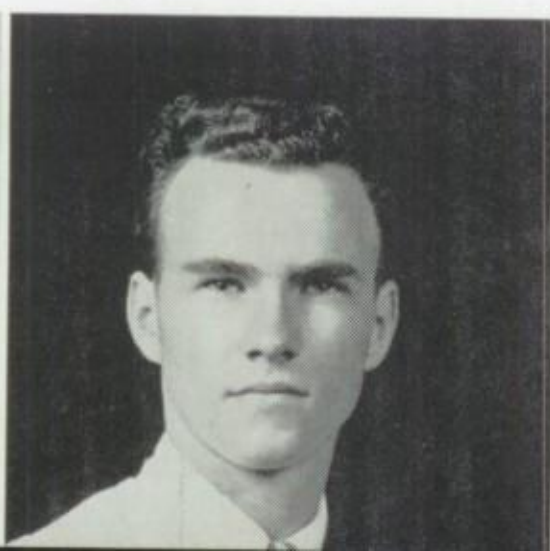

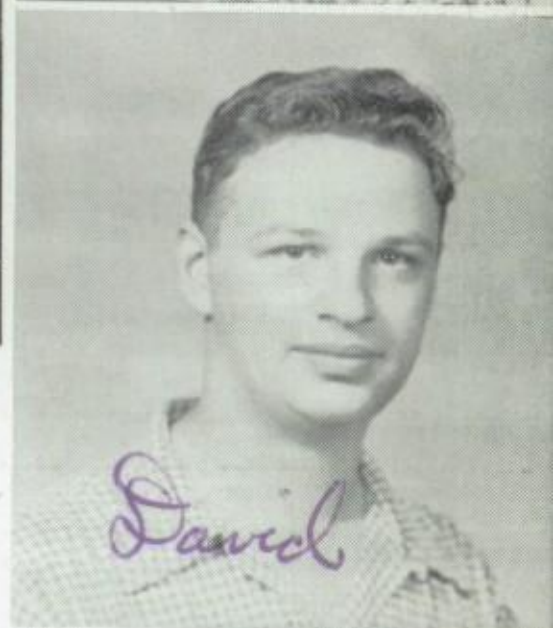

This was the year! September rolled on and deadlines were mere specks in the distance; midnight oil unknown. Months whizzed by and then the machine shifted into action. Tons of copy to read, hundreds of pictures to take, sometime.

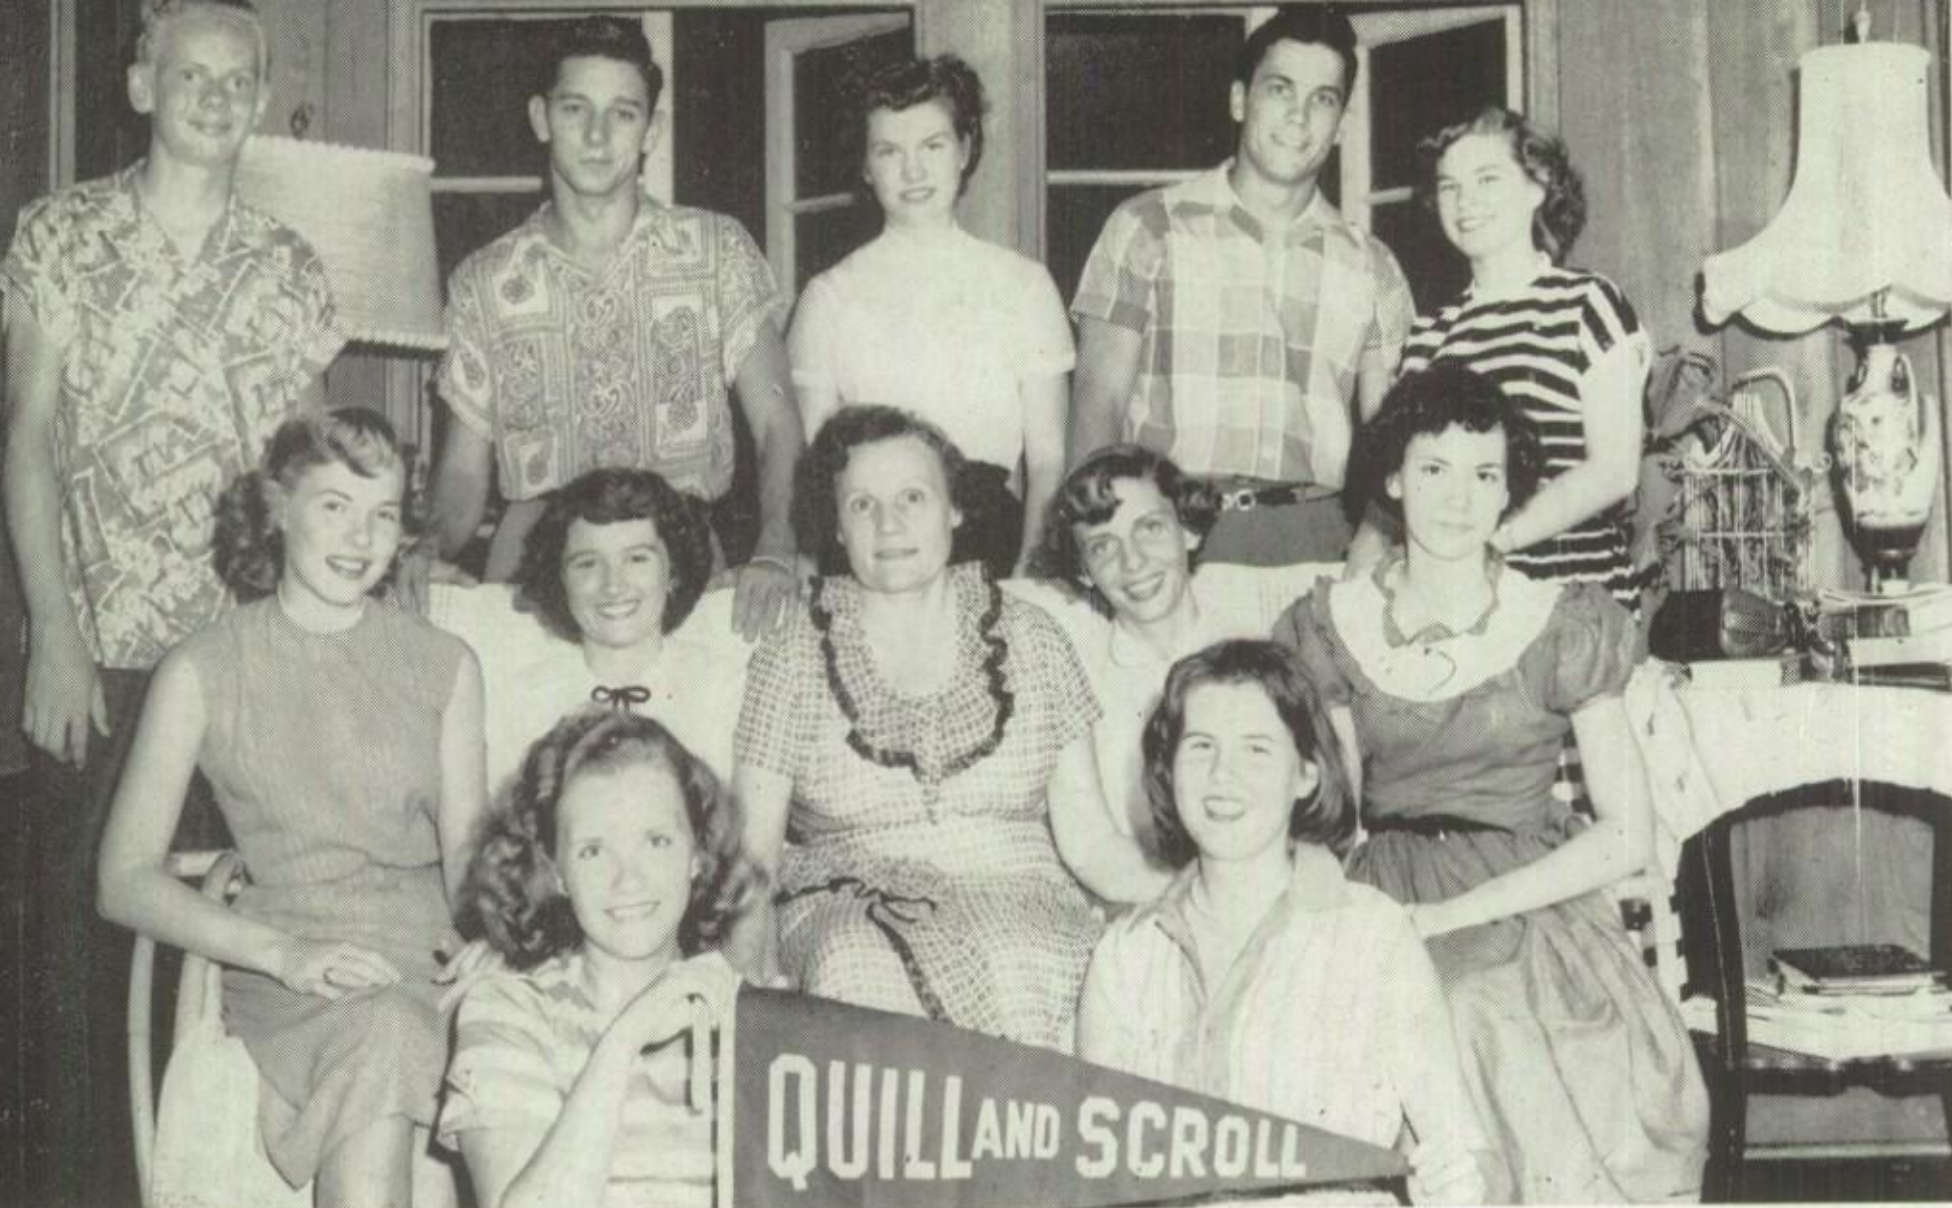

Days sped on. From somewhere copy materialized. Now the proof! Miles of it, sticky with undried ink, smothering the proof reader.

Now it's all over. The cry of the printer, the roar of the presses. No more galleys of proof, no more deadlines. It is finished; our brain-child stands as a tribute to our toil.

Clockwise, starting at top: Joan Mallion, editor-in-chief; David Lefkowitz, managing editor; Norma Trippodo, business manager; Sandee Reedy, senior editor; Jo Ann Clement, home room editor; Bill Morris, sports editor; Frank Wallberg, circulation manager; and Dorothy Gudzinis, club editor. Not pictured, Pat Chrisman, senior editor.

Now Old Hickory becomes the property of the seniors, the underclassmen, the teachers and the many friends of the school. It is the hope of the staff that this book, on which were spent so many hours, accompanied by tears and smiles, will be a storehouse of memories.

Journalists Supreme

■ "PERHAPS world peace lies in the bond that grows between journalists of every country when nurtured by the time-honored symbol of Quill and Scroll."

This is a part of the candle-light message given to each high school journalist who fulfills the requirements of this society.

By far the smallest honor society at Jackson, Quill and Scroll represents the highest honor bestowed upon the high school journalist.

To be eligible, a student must have 1000 lines of print in either the Globe or Annual, and a B average in journalism and other subjects.

Paletteers

■ To ENRICH their understanding and appreciation of all classifications of art is the goal of the Senior Art club, sponsored by Mr. Anthony DiMeo.

Members of the group meet every Friday morning to watch films, hear speakers, and apply their own talents in the field of art. They become familiar with the artist's materials as they experiment with them. In this way, students acquire their own individual style of introducing and presenting different thought, ideas and moods on paper.

Some students who are artistically inclined, but cannot fit a regular art course into their schedule, find the art club very beneficial. Here they can dabble every Friday morning in various paints and still maintain a full schedule.

■ THE CLINIC MONITORS, Florence Nightingales of tomorrow, are a non-credit organization of girls interested in nursing. Under the guidance of Zelda Johnson, school nurse, these girls spend one hour per day attending to the many ailments which arise among the students.

These volunteers, who serve the student body, meet at least once a week outside of school for training. They are taught the fundamentals of the nursing profession.

Several excellent qualities are needed to become a nurse. These girls are trained to be cheerful, patient, helpful, courteous, and kind to all people. Good judgment and reliability are essential in case of an emergency.

Hands Across the Border

■ PROMOTION of good will and understanding of South American countries are the main purposes of the Pan American club. As one of their projects, the Pan American club maintains a showcase filled with South American objects of interest.

Because Jackson has quite a few students from Latin-American families, this club has an added importance. Cordial relations among all Jackson students is a noteworthy feature of the school, fostered by such organizations as this club. Appreciation of the literature and music of the mother country is fostered, as adding to this country's culture.

Their national anthems were played and various songs and dances were performed. Following this, miniature flags of these countries were sold to the student body.

Various objects, from dresses to dolls, were displayed in the showcase. Students were invited to come in and view the different exhibits.

To Serve This Age

■ STRIVING for the same goals as their big brother organization, the Jr. Hi-Y-ers all hope to become members of the senior club some day. Christian service is their by-word and each member tries to live up to this.

The Junior Hi-Y is actually a testing ground. Members who hope to join Sr. Hi-Y join this club in Jr. High. From this, they draw conclusions as to whether they want to join the Senior club when they reach the tenth grade.

After participating in several activities similar to those of their big brother organization, they can better realize the duties necessary in becoming a full-fledged member.

Members of this club hope to achieve several goals, the main one being for each to better himself in some way. They undertake the job of performing many tasks for which they receive little credit. Under the supervision of Miss Lucile Pierce, the club meets with the Junior Hi-Y for the purpose of discussing the many subjects which are of interest to their age group. Here they bring to light all topics which prove both helpful and interesting.

Included in their activities are participation in the Christmas program and several bake sales.

Most of these students aspire to become members in their bigger sister organization, the Sr. Y-Teens. They prepare themselves by sponsoring different projects of the same nature as the "Big Sister" group.

Golden Road to Stardom

■ FUTURE SARAH BERNHARDTS, these young dramatists' ultimate goal is membership in Thespians. By studying techniques of great stars, they become acquainted with the intricate details involved in acting. They learn that makeup and poise play a most important part. Walking and sitting exercises are illustrated to further provide helpful information.

Different members act various parts before the club, and receive helpful criticism. By the end of the year, each student has learned the finer details of acting.

Some day these fledgling dramatics will be seen on Jackson's stage, presenting plays of the caliber that has made acting noteworthy at Jackson.

Bookworm's Seventh Heaven

■ "BETTER KNOWLEDGE through reading books" is the motto the members of the Library Club hope to live up to. Under the sponsorship of the new librarian, Mrs. Nora Meredith, this club has opened new fields in the library world.

The goal of the club is to have a prominent speaker each meeting and to discuss new books. Reports on books recently read are given by various club members. In this way, students become familiar with the different articles, magazines and books available to them through the vast supply in the library.

■ NEEDLES have been busy this year, clicking and clacking noisily as members of the Hope Chest club work on their crochet-ing and embroidering.

The Hope Chest is a club in which the "home worker" type of girls gets together to discuss dating and marriage problems, plus participating in various types of needlework.

The girls enjoy making lamps and doing fine stitching. They also like their informal discussions, led by Mrs. Ellen Odum, on such things as the proper etiquette, correct styling, and home problems.

Apple Toters

■ ACTUAL TEACHING knowledge is gained by the students in Jackson's Future Teacher organization. Whenever a regular teacher is absent and a substitute instructor cannot be obtained, the services of a future teacher are called upon.

Speakers who specialize in certain fields of education, such as instructors for exceptional children, talk to the group which meets once each month. Because of this one meeting, the members may belong to another organization.

Every year, the senior members have an opportunity to teach in an elementary school for a week as a regular teacher. This gives the students a better idea of the work which they have chosen as their career.

Boys, Get in Line

■ INCREASING INTEREST in the home is one of the main goals of the Future Homemakers. This club includes democracy in the home and community, and the spread of nationwide good will, which plays a most important part in their work.

Projects done by the Future Homemakers include selling corsages for the Miami High-Jackson game, and selling greeting cards. Representatives attended the State Fair in Tampa this year.

These students constantly are on the alert for helpful hints. Reports by different members prove to be of value in the future. Even today, several of the students are practicing what they preach in their own homes.

This year their main project consisted of selling corsages. The purpose behind this campaign was to send delegates to Tampa for the State Fair. While attending the convention, members learned many helpful suggestions to relate to their fellow members.

Importance of the home in American life is emphasized in meetings of this organization. Speakers and discussions help to instill the vital need for closely knit families.

Backyard Cut-ups

■ SEVERAL HIGH HONORS have been awarded to this ambitious group of boys known as the Future Farmers. Placing fourteenth in the state from a field of 500 champions was only one of their many achievements. Several members were sent to various conventions during the year. Two students represented Jackson at the State Fair in Tampa, Florida. Here two first places and one second were awarded to them.

All types of farming are practiced throughout the year. Different vegetables are grown and sold. Cattle raising forms another major industry in which these students participate.

Climaxing the year, the Future Farmers annual banquet is given. Here all the boys enjoy a hearty meal from some of their own home grown food.

■ WHEN good entertainment is needed, the Jackson Variety club is the organization to see. A record is kept of each member's talent achievements and put on file. When a program is needed, the files are consulted and top-flight entertainment is provided.

The Variety club members gain self confidence, poise and skill in the entertainment world by these varied performances. Some of the talent includes vocalists, dancers, pantomimers and comedians.

Mr. Fred Fischer, well known around Jackson for his personality and wit, is the sponsor of the Variety club. Because of his natural aptitude for discovering talent, only the best of entertainers are found in this organization.

They Live For Others

■ AS A BRANCH of the Young Women's Christian Association, the Y-Teens sponsor many service projects. They gather comic books, papers and other articles of interest to take to the Veteran's Hospital. They sponsor such activities as dances and bake sales to assure the financial support of these various undertakings.

The activities, sponsored by these sophomores, are carried through with much thought and judgment. During their work, they always keep in mind the organization which sponsors Y-Teens and attempt to carry out the idea of Christian Service.

■ DIVERSIFIED COOPERATIVE TRAINING is a combined school and work training program. The school and the employer cooperate in training a student for an occupation which he intends to follow as a means of earning a livelihood. It gives the high school boy or girl an opportunity to begin learning a trade or occupation as part of his high school work by attending school in the morning and receiving training on the job in the afternoon.

DCT at Jackson was established in 1941. Since that time, 354 students have worked 201,184 hours on the job and have earned a grand total of $116,367.81.00.

Jackson's Jivers

■ "LET'S DANCE! !" In the social club a wall flower becomes a dancing gal and the bashful Bill becomes the life of the party. This club is exactly what the name implies—the social hour.

Its members meet every Friday morning to dance and play badminton or group games. A small amount of money is collected each week to buy new hit records, which become the property of the club.

Anyone can join this club and everyone who does learns to dance well,

All types of dancing are taught by the students in the Social Club. Each person who excels in one style can teach others not so adept. Tangos, mambo, rumbas, and several South American dances can be learned with little effort. But that isn't all! Good ole jitterbugs, charlestons and fox trots represent the American side of "cuttin the rug."

■ CHESS enthusiasts meet every Friday morning to compete with each other and learn more about the game of chess under the guidance of their sponsor, Mrs. Maree Holm.

The first game of chess was played by military leaders in England during the medieval period while planning their army maneuvers. Noting the originality and intricate plans needed in making these moves, a few leaders invented the game of chess based on the theme of army strategy.

Page Turners

■ "READING for amusement" could easily be the theme of the Current Magazine club. This group meets every Friday for the purpose of enjoying good magazines. Informative as well as humorous articles are at the club's disposal.

Mrs. Kaye Thompson, faculty sponsor, helps supply the magazines most called for by the students. Among the favorites are, Flying, Popular Mechanic, Popular Science, Hot Rods and Holiday.

If a student has read a particularly interesting story, he brings it to the attention of the club, where other members have the benefit of enjoying it. News magazines and books are continually bought to help inform students of daily happenings.

Yearning for Learning

■ THIS WORTHWHILE CLUB enables students fully to enjoy the hobby of reading. Every Friday morning is designated as read-a-while period. Any type of literature may be read from Shakespeare to O'Henry. Most of the members find this club period a good time to relax and enjoy a book.

Several of the students exchange books which they think are interesting. At the end of the year, each student has furthered his own education by engaging in a helpful and pleasurable pastime.

Love of reading is emphasized in the Read-awhile club, with members choosing those books and magazines best suited to their interests under the guidance of Mrs. Josephine Gasper.

Making trips to the Everglades, discussing ideas and theories of modern science, plus searching for answers and knowledge take up most of the time of the Science club members.

Rookie Racqueteers

This year's roll call contains mostly freshmen and sophomores. These tireless racqueteers may be found on the school's newly erected tennis courts any afternoon or club period.

Racquet Squad

■ "HEY, Ace! Oh, he's a pro!" No, it's not jabberwocky; it's just a typical excerpt from a meeting of the Advanced Tennis club. Miss Ruth Engel leads the group in executing its erstwhile purpose, to further interest in the net game around Jackson.

The club's project includes keeping a tennis scrapbook which is donated to the library at the end of the year. Their main goal is to create a desire for participation in tennis. This club also helps to provide students for the tennis team.

Since Miami is rapidly becoming a major center for tennis tournament play, the Advanced Tennis club has at its fingertips an unusual opportunity for intensified study, practice, and development. Limelighters

■ "ALL the world's a stage," and the Limelighters' aim is to become important actors upon it. They learn dramatic fundamentals during club period, and put them into practice whenever possible.

This organization sponsors one act plays, bake sales, and offers its support to school service projects. The one-act plays, which are presented in the afternoon in the Little Theatre, give each participant a chance to earn Thespian points.

Across the Raging Main

■ FOSTERING friendship and understanding among nations of the world is indeed a worthy aim. And the possessor of this goal, the World Wide Friendship Club, indeed does serve. Studying the conditions, traditions, and adventures is the prime purpose of the Travel club.

Members try to grasp the basic fundamental characteristics of all men; to compile their studies and observations into a general, overall comprehension of the world and the peoples who share its benefits. They study the conditions and circumstances in which the country lives.

Anybody Seen That Tiger?

■ A GREAT necessity in the modern world, conservation of domestic animals, is studied extensively by members of the Wild Life club. Since the group's interest reaches beyond the borders of the United States, many articles are read concerning foreign wild life.

On occasions, the group visits the Everglades' teeming game preserves, mostly to observe, but sometimes to hunt pests, such as the excessive number of rabbits, which whittle away game food supplies.

Proper rifle care and shooting instructions are being planned as an addition to the club's program.

Merry Men

■ POSITION! Aim! Fire! No, it isn't a rifle range. It's the bulls-eye club of Jackson, alias the Archery club. These Robin Hoods line up every Friday morning to practice the skilled art of archery.

Each member gets his chance to practice with his bow and arrow the hard task of hitting a bulls-eye. Most of the students have received some training in this art beforehand. This club period enables them to practice the finer intricacies of the game.

The Bull's Eye Club was organized at Jackson as the Archery club. Later, having been renamed, it adopted Mr. John Tobin—Mr. Baseball himself—as sponsor. These Robin Hoods practice every club period on the school's athletic field. Here they can further their skill in this intricate sport.

Testing, 1, 2

■ THE PURPOSE of this small, but efficient club is to provide speakers for the various business men's clubs, and any school organization that needs its services. Assembly programs and homeroom announcements are the Speakers Bureau's specialty.

The Speakers Bureau was organized in the winter of 1951, and has had the support of the business clubs and the school thereafter. Numerous topics are discussed and prepared for class discussion.

All Types of group discussion—debates, orations, and several other types of speech—are practiced. If any social or business gathering is in need of an experienced speaker, this club has the facilities to fulfill their want. All these experiences help to set a student at ease while speaking before an audience.

On With The Show

■ "THE PLAY MUST GO ON," is the motto of Curtain Callers, the 11th and 12th grade drama club.

The main project of the club is the presentation of one act plays. This club offers an opportunity for students to make Thespian points by appearing in these productions. Another project of the club is contributions toward buying stage equipment.

This year's work was highlighted when Curtain Callers presented a play, "The Laughing Ghost," in the November Junior Playmakers.

Future Famous Authors

■ BLOOD, sweat and a generous amount of tears is the motto of Jackson's first Creative Writing club.

Under the able direction of Richard Rigsby, president, and Mrs. Myrtle Owens, sponsor, this organization undertook the task of establishing a literary magazine to be published once a month.

"Jax Jottings," as the publication was called, included creative writings from Jackson students as well as recent book reviews and articles of interest to English students.

High Ideals

■ TO SHOW THE ILL EFFECTS of alcohol in the mental and physical body is the chief purpose of the Allied Youth club. Various tasks are undertaken at each meeting but they all deal primarily with alcoholism. Occasionally a guest speaker relates his experiences with some person who was under the effect of alcohol.

Not all club meetings, however, are strictly business. Social functions are held about once a month in the recreation room. During these get-togethers, dancing and games provide the chief entertainment.

Up The Scale

■ MELODY rings clear every Friday morning when an enthusiastic group of students, known as the Miami Jackson Glee club, meets to relax with a song. A harmonious blending of mixed voices proves to all who may be listening that members have music in their souls.

Classics, spirituals, hymns and popular music all take their places in a varied repertoire. Because the club members perform so well, they are often invited to provide programs at functions both in and out of school.

Several of the members hope to enter the musical profession when they graduate. This club offers several advantages to a musically inclined student. Here a member can learn the various styles, techniques and other helpful hints which will prove useful in later life.

Anybody Seen My Gal?

■ "ARTHUR GODFREY the second." That is the ultimate goal of these young ukelele aspirants who meet every Friday morning to learn the techniques of "fiddling the fiddle."

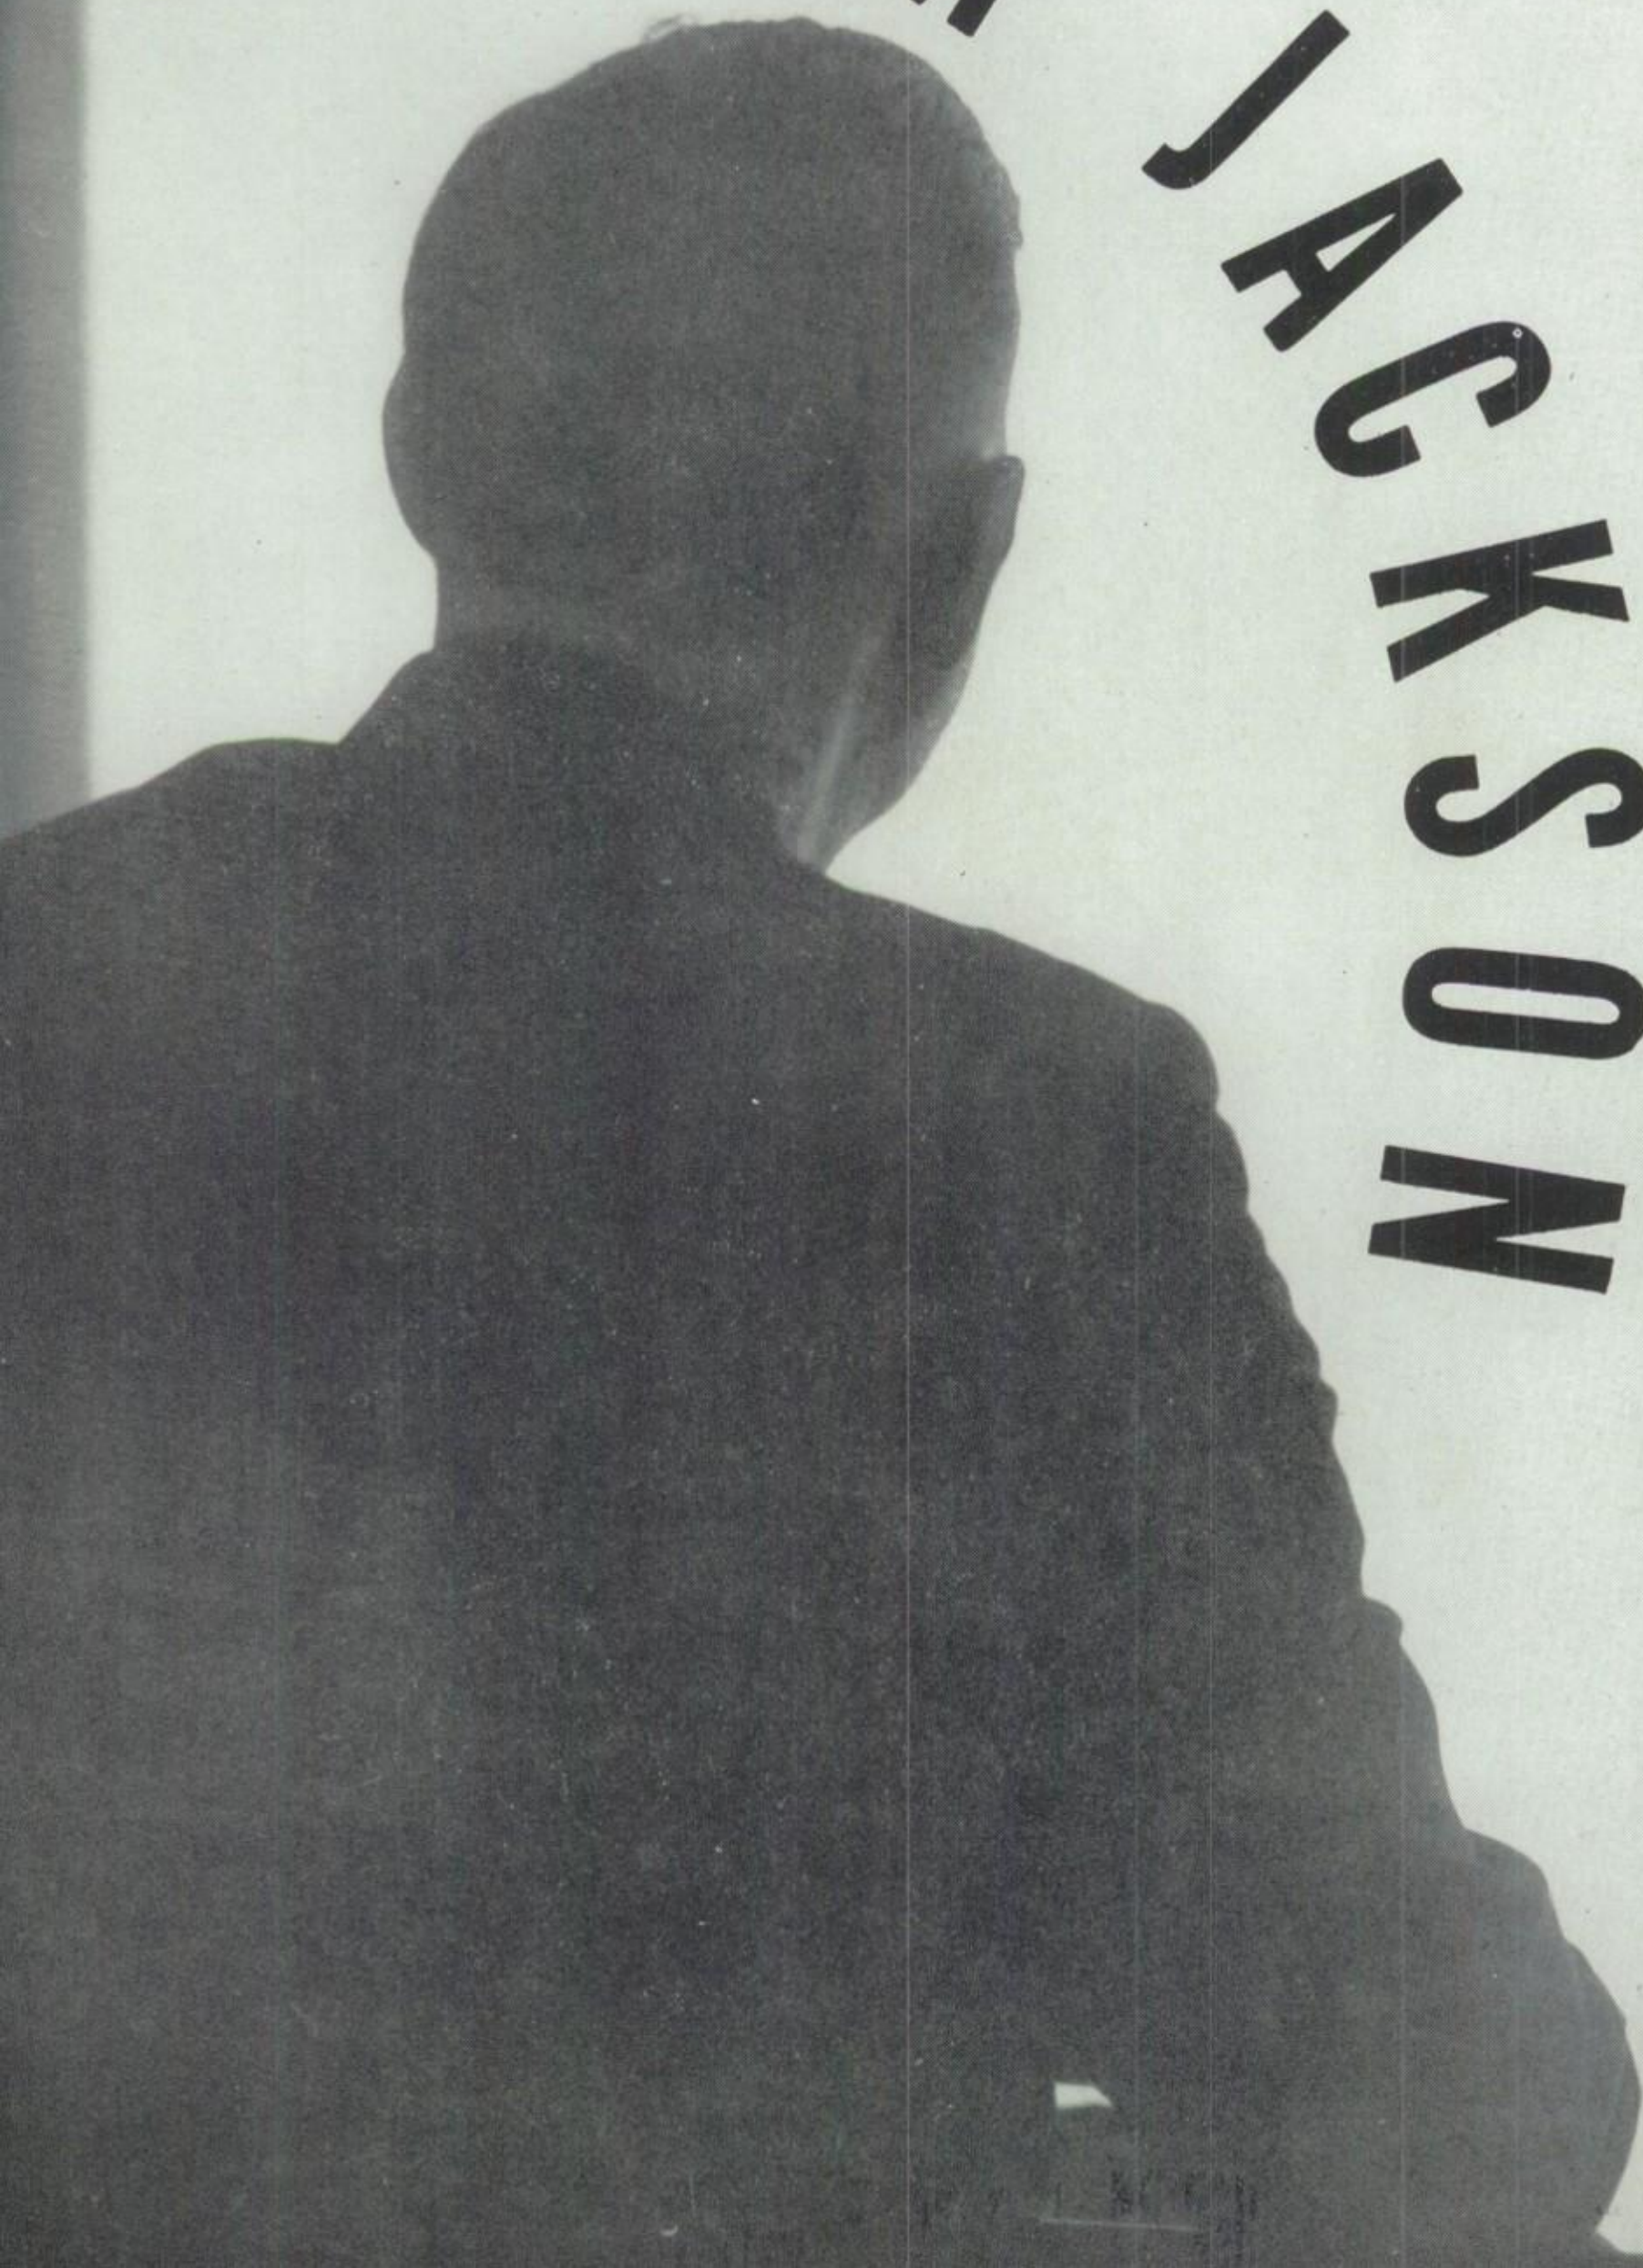

Miss Sarah Adams guides these ambitious hopefuls through their trials and troubles. Only requirement necessary for membership is the ownership of one ukelele and the desire to play.

Various songs are learned throughout the year. Among them, "Ain't She Sweet," "We'll Build a Bungalow," "Tell Me Why," and "Five-foot Two."

Depicted above are various scenes around Jackson at Christmas. Carols ring out, Christmas trees glitter with sparkling lights, Santa Claus chuckles his merry greetings and students watch with rapt wonderment the happy, carefree spirit of Christmas.

I AM JACKSON

During World War II a frequently-expressed idea was "The only thing permanent is change." If one were to look back over the present school year and attempt to find a fitting phrase to evaluate it, that same saying would seem appropriate. Change has been a constant factor of the year 1952-53.

However, as is illustrated in nature, with change comes growth. With this idea in mind, we can live in the present, enjoy our memories of the past, and look forward to a bright new future with the new administration, a future that will fulfill all our dreams of a new and greater Miami Jackson.

IN APPRECIATION

OLD HICKORY is done! Its pages are complete, the copy in, pictures taken. But still, a part of it remains inside the people who have done so very much to make it possible. To these individuals do I sincerely express my everlasting gratitude. Mrs. Margaret Bach, sponsor, guardian, friend . . . Mr. Bland Bowers, adviser, who so graciously bothered with a few inexperienced students during the most trying times . . . Prin. Richard Roberts for his cheerfulness and enduring patience . . . Miami Photo Engraving for their instant and excellent pieces of art . . . Ann Godwin for her spontaneous excerpts of literature . . . Mr. Pat Patridge for his never ceasing patience and fortitude . . . Messrs. Al Elms, Wm. Goodson, Bob Miller, for their talented help and assistance to a rather bewildered editor under the most difficult circumstances . . . DCT and Mr. Jenkins for the ever helpful use of their telephone . . . Mr. Wilbert Bach and Owen Ireland for the use of their most needed wit and happiness . . . Miss Pat Laflin for ever-ready aid and thoughtfulness . . . To my teachers do I owe an inexpressible debt of gratitude for their constant understanding, kindness, and helpfulness . . .

You kids have perhaps heard of

DANTE'S INFERNO

DON'T GIVE IT A THOUGHT. There are much worse things. Take an annual for example. We have been taking them for lo, these many years, and happily so.

It's a tough life though, and an itchy one.

OLD HICKORY is an easy sort of job because we work with nice people. People like Joan Mallion, Dave Lefkowitz, Bill Morris, Sammy Penn, Sandee Reedy, Ann Godwin and company.

It takes people to make publications.

At Jackson we have some pretty delightful people. But to get back to our original premise: If you haven't put out an annual you can't understand Mr. Dante.

We do. We've done it for 20 odd years.

IT TAKES A Long, Long TIME

Mr. Gutenberg invented the art of moveable types some 500 years ago. The reading public had to wait until 1890 for the halftone reproduction.

That's a long time.

But in our opinion it was worth it.

Take a look at the pictures in your annual.

Like 'em? Four hundred and fifty years of scientific approach produced them.

It has been a pleasure knowing you and working with you. Don't ever forget all the crazy times we have had on staff. The best of luck to you in college and in whatever you do.

So Jay
due to circumstances beyond our control (I know that I mean?) our friendship never progressed beyond a certain point.
I think the results would have been very interesting. But miles and miles away I would have been very interested in whatever you do, baby.

Dear Joy,
Well honey it looks like our happy days at Jackson are nearing an end, but I'm sure each one of us will really regret leaving all of our old friends.
I am glad that you will be one of my many happy memories connected with Miami
Jackson. Loads of luck, happiness and success in your future undertakings.

Joy -
a sweet gal who can really work the frustration down with her workin -
Good luck Dar Hesterberg

Joy - who's gonna take you please write me to keep coming in my class & doctor. The peace? Just kidding. Joy, you know lots of nice things about you - how about a movie? Then that you are a lovely one - I hope all things fall & give a lot of love and happiness
Smile

Best of luck to you
in your future years.
You are a pleasure to know. such a person - as you.
